

Hijacker Makes Decision: Violent Death For Himself

By ROBERT FULROW
Associated Press Writer
ATLANTA (AP) — The skyjacker who commandeered a jet in Nebraska for a cross-country dash to spring a friend from jail and then killed himself "made a value judgment" between prison or suicide, says his lawyer.

Thomas Michael Hannan, 29, had released his 13 hostages but was still talking to his lawyer aboard the Frontier Airlines Boeing 737 he had hijacked 14 hours earlier Thursday when he "just sat down and pulled the trigger," said James Dunn of the FBI.

The sudden gunfire ended a long day of quiet negotiation in which FBI agents carefully stalled Hannan over a ground-to-aircraft radio hookup, and Hannan, although occasionally bristling with impatience, returned polite "Yes, sir" and "No, sir" responses.

Hannan had hijacked the jet in an attempt to free George David Stewart — whom police identified as a fellow homosexual — and to get a $3 million ransom.

Both Stewart and his attorney, J. Roger Thompson, had urged Hannan to surrender. Dunn credited both with helping end the day-long drama with no other injuries.

Hannan and Stewart had been arrested in Mobile, Ala., last month and charged with stealing $7,000 from an Atlanta bank on Sept. 2. Stewart was kept in jail. Hannan was released on $25,000 bond and allowed to return to his home in Nebraska.

Hannan, called "Mike" by his friends, had moved with his family from Sioux Falls, S.D., as a youngster to Grand Island, Neb., where the hijack began early Thursday when he stormed aboard the plane with a sawed-off shotgun.

High school classmates in Nebraska remembered him as a popular, good-looking student who played varsity sports and liked women.

Mobile police say they received a law enforcement circular describing Hannan and Stewart as having "a sexual relationship," but former high school friends found that hard to believe.

They remembered Hannan as someone who went quietly with the "in-crowd" at school, did mediocre work in college and served a military term in Vietnam. A marriage four years ago lasted only a year.

Hannan's parents flew to Atlanta Thursday to plead with him to surrender, but he said he did not want to talk to them, did not want to get involved "in some soap opera."

His father told him by radio: "We're both pretty worried. Your mother and I both think you ought to hand in that gun and call it quits. Can't you do that, Boy?"

There was no reply.

Hannan had ordered the pilot to fly the plane and its 29 passengers to Kansas City, where 18 passengers — eight women, eight children and two men — were released. One man had a heart condition and the second was a boyfriend friend of Hannan's who was on the same flight by chance.

The plane continued to Atlanta where Stewart was being held.

Dearborn Mayor Mum About 'Marriage Mill'

DETROIT (AP) — Dearborn Mayor Orville Hubbard showed up in Detroit Probate court under threat of arrest, but refused to answer questions concerning a "marriage mill" he allegedly operated from 1972 to 1974.

Hubbard, confined to a wheelchair because

General Frank Kelley has said Hubbard illegally collected more than $30,000 in marriage fees in 1972-74. He was never prosecuted because the statute of limitations on the crime had expired, Kelley said.

Hubbard refused to answer questions Thursday about what he did with marriage records, whether he ever had annulled a marriage and whether he had reported his marriage fees on his income tax forms. Hubbard was called to court concerning the 1973 marriage of the late Frank Bress and Dorothy Bartlett. Ms. Bartlett says Hubbard agreed to annul the marriage three weeks after it was performed. A mayor has no power to annul a marriage, Bress subsequently remarried and died, and his widow has been seeking property rights. His children contend the second marriage was invalid because the first never was legally terminated.

Hubbard was served with a subpoena Oct. 4 and ordered to show up in court Wednesday. Instead, a Dearborn city employee, Maureen Kenne, showed up and said the mayor was unable to attend because he was at a meeting. Judge Ernest Boehm threatened to have Hubbard arrested if the mayor failed to appear at 10 a.m. Thursday. "If he can work in Dearborn he can come down to court," the judge declared.

But Thursday morning came, and still no Hubbard. His attorney, Charles Fellrath, said the mayor was "physically and mentally unable to testify."

"I'm to determine that, not you," thundered Judge Boehm. "Frankly, there are serious charges against Mayor Hubbard in this case, that he falsified records, that he was running a marriage mill out there ... that he voided a marriage."

Hubbard arrived in court after the noon recess. He managed to whisper only a few words in court, answering most of the questions by nodding or shaking his head. Although a photocopy of the marriage license for Bress and Ms. Bartlett was produced, no record of it could be found in county files. Boehm ruled that Bress' second marriage was valid.

Clark's Earnings Highest Ever For Three Quarters

BUCHANAN — Clark Equipment Company today reported net income of $13.1 million, or 96 cents per share, on sales of $310.1 million for the third quarter of 1977. In the comparable period of 1976, the Company reported net income of $12.0 million, or 94 cents per share, on sales of $311.9 million.

For the first nine months of 1977, Clark reported net income of $45.0 million, or $4.28 per share, on sales of $954.3 million. This compares with net income of $39.1 million, or $2.88 per share, on sales of $951.3 million for the same period in 1976.

Pre-tax income for the year to date improved significantly to $84.8 million from $71.1 million, but a higher effective income tax rate partially offset this improvement in the net income comparison.

Net income for the first nine months of 1977 was higher than in any previous year's first nine months, Clark reported.

Bert E. Phillips, Clark president and chief executive officer, said, "Our domestic business continues to experience several areas of substantial market strength.

This is especially true of industrial trucks, tractor shovels, timber skidders and skid-steer loaders.

"Our overseas business has been generally slow all year," Phillips said, "however, we are beginning to see increased demand for some products in Europe and South America."

Phillips predicted that sales for the fourth quarter should rebound to the level of the first and second quarters. "Net income for the full year 1977 should be the highest operating earnings in Clark's history," he said. Last year's operating profit was $52 million or $3.80 per share before including a nonrecurring gain from the liquidation of the United Kingdom subsidiary. Highest operating profit to date was $55 million or $4.06 per share in 1973, the year before the company adopted the LIFO method of valuing domestic inventories.

In view of the improved outlook, Clark increased the quarterly dividend in the third quarter from 40 cents a share to 45 cents a share.

Clark Equipment is a major worldwide manufacturer and distributor of axles and transmissions, construction machinery, industrial trucks and material handling systems.

William Bartz Is Dead At 83

William H. Bartz, patriarch of a politically-oriented Berrien County family, died shortly after noon Thursday. He was 83.

Mr. Bartz served as Berrien County treasurer 30 years before retiring in 1969. His grandson is Congressman Dave Stockman (R-St. Joseph).

Mr. Bartz, of 5281 Southdale

Road, Royallton Township, died at 12:38 p.m. at Berrien General Hospital, Berrien Center.

One of his daughters, Carol Stockman, is chairman of the executive committee of the Berrien County Republican party and her husband, Allen Stockman, is Royallton Township treasurer.

His brother, Alfred R. Bartz, who died in 1971, was Lincoln Township supervisor for 25 years and was also chairman of the Berrien Board of Supervisors, the predecessor of the county board of commissioners.

William Bartz served on the old Tryon School Board and was also clerk and treasurer of Royallton Township. He began his tenure as county treasurer in 1939.

Mr. Bartz served on the Farm Bureau Board of Directors for 40 years, 20 of them as secretary, and was in his second three-year term on the Berrien County Jury Selection Committee, of which he was chairman.

A long-time member of the Benton Harbor Kiwanis club, he was twice honored as "Kiwanian of the Year," had a 39-year perfect attendance record, and served at various times as club president and treasurer.

Mr. Bartz served in France during World War I.

Mr. Bartz was born Oct. 24, 1893, in St. Joseph. He was a 75-year member of Scottdale United Methodist church and had been superintendent of the Sunday school 35 years. He was also a member of St. Joseph American Legion Post No. 103; and Benton Harbor Kiwanis Club. He was also a member of Berrien County Farm Bureau, and St. Joseph Masonic Lodge.

Surviving are his widow, the former Madge Birdseye, to whom he was married on Dec. 22, 1920, in St. Joseph township; two daughters, Mrs. Lloyd (Joyce) Both, St. Joseph and

WILLIAM H. BARTZ

Mrs. Allen (Carol) Stockman, St. Joseph; eight grandchildren; one great-grandchild.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday in Scottdale United Methodist Church. Burial will be in Spring Run Cemetery.

Friends may call at Kerley and Sparks Funeral Home, St. Joseph.

Memorials may be made to the church or to Benton Harbor Kiwanis Club.

Ford Co. Studies Impact Of West German Fire

COLOGNE, West Germany (AP) — Ford Motor Co. officials do not yet know the impact a $43 million fire at a German auto-parts warehouse will have on foreign or domestic car production.

The blaze Thursday sent flames leaping 200 feet above the warehouse here, and took more than 200 firemen nearly eight hours to bring under control, officials said.

Three firemen were overcome by smoke spewing forth from barrels of lacquer and glue, some of which exploded in the intense heat. No other injuries were reported.

Although German officials put the damage estimate at more than $43 million, a spokesman at Ford headquarters in Detroit said the figure could reach even higher.

The cause of the blaze was not immediately known. Police said they were investigating the possibility of arson.

There was no indication the fire was connected to German terrorist incidents this week, police said.

Clouds of smoke were visible as far as 12 miles from the sprawling warehouse. It lies in an open area, far from homes, on the north side of this Rhine River city.

The company said the warehouse and parts inside were valued at more than $87 million. The complex is the main parts center for German Ford cars assembled in Cologne.

Two hundred firemen were sent to fight the blaze, which broke out at about 2 p.m. (9 a.m. EDT). Workers were able to leave the building without injury. About 1,000 persons are employed there, a company spokesman said.

Competent Policemen Meet Good Student Body

Chief William Mihalik and his St. Joseph police department deserve much of the credit for the fact that yesterday's fracas at St. Joseph senior high school didn't turn into a vandalism spree, even a riot.

Give the remainder of what credit is due to the fact that the vast majority of the high school students prefer the classroom to the barricades.

About 300 of 1,400 students turned out shortly before noon to protest cutting down of small trees on an area of the campus that has come to be known as "Smokers' Corner." Some carried signs proclaiming "Save Our Trees." Some of the students genuinely were concerned that in clearing out underbrush, a group of trimmers were taking out some good small trees. But a number of demonstrating students very obviously were irritated that cleaning out the underbrush would expose prohibited activities, such as smoking, to public gaze.

Warned that the demonstration was coming up, Police Chief Mihalik did a lot of things right:

—He and his officers acted with restraint; they didn't convert anybody into hooliganism with over-reaction. This isolated those students who wanted trouble, those who later broke a couple of windows.

—Mihalik also had plenty of force on hand so that, even though force wasn't being used, student hoods were well aware it was there if needed. The chief called officers in from five neighboring departments.

—At Mihalik's direction, all officers played it cool, enduring irritating verbal abuse with a smile, even holding themselves in check when tentatively pushed a bit.

The upshot was that as a few students vandalized school property, almost all other students deserted them. The cops were the guys in the white hats, not the guys with sticks and stones.

Mihalik has been police chief since May, when he replaced the veteran chief of 30 years, Tom Gillespie, who retired. In his first big confrontation, Mihalik has proved an able, cool replacement.

TOO LITTLE TRIBUTE TO A FINE MAN

Editor,
Concerning the fashion in which Ex-Benton Harbor patrolman Dove Bruce's death was handled: Secondary, were the facts that he was the first black patrolman in this community and a World War II veteran. In my opinion, Mr. Dove Bruce was an example of a constructive, productive, and positive human being. And we all know there's no one else like him.

Why was there no tribute? Why was there no moment of silence, no rifle salute, no formal turnout by the police department in Mr. Bruce's honor?

I am an immigrant in this country and would like to understand how someone like Mr. Bruce who gave so much received so little in terms of recognition.

DEFENDS FIRED ST. JOE COACH

Editor,
It has been said that public pressure is the reason for George Gaund's dismissal as coach of the St. Joseph basketball team. I feel it was just a lot of mommies and daddies who were upset because their kids weren't playing as much as they would have liked. Did they ever stop to think just once that their kids might not be all that good? How 'bout it mom and dad — is it possible?

It has also been said by certain people that Mr. Gaund was getting old. I say remember with age comes wisdom. Just look at his record over the years: At St. Joe, 105 wins, 73 losses. St. Joseph's 115 wins, 83 losses. At Eau Claire 38 wins, 57 losses. That my friends makes a grand total of 238 wins, 192 losses. You can't amass such a record without some knowledge of the game.

Remember, Bear fans, if we have another losing season, blame the administration, school board and the parents behind the whole thing.

DECATUR SCHOOL BOARD COMES UNDER FIRE

Editor,
The Decatur school board, during the recent mediation session Monday evening, has once again demonstrated a total lack of good faith and fair play. Resorting once again to hiring an outside attorney to (mis)advise them, they have continuously stalled and refused to consider many of the concerns of the teachers.

Why, school board, did the attorney you hired for only "legal advice" become your spokesman and head negotiator at the mediation session? Why do you continue to demonstrate your total disregard for the morale, well being, and basic rights of Decatur teachers?

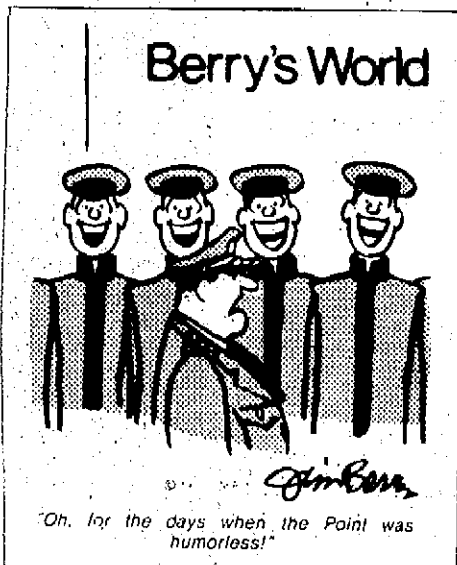

I think it is about time that the parents and concerned citizens of Decatur begin to take a closer look at the people on the school board! Charlie Carson, Dick MacKellar, Emma Jean Stambek, George Kusmack, Art Hayes, Harry Vilek, and Dino Rugoni, and the superintendent of schools, Wayne Hellenga. Contact them and find out if you have entrusted the stewardship of your schools to good prudent hands.

Thank you.

Flaws Noted In Western Dams

WASHINGTON — Seventeen western dams have design flaws that, in heavy flooding, could cause a repeat of the Teton Dam disaster which killed 11 persons last year, a government study shows.

The Bureau of Reclamation study said such heavy flooding is unlikely, but could not be ruled out.

Faltering GOP Is Hopeful

BRETTON WOODS, N.H. — There were fat cats and functionaries, journalists and security men, staff aides and party pros—more than 400 registered participants in all.

But the hardest folks to find at this year's Republican Governors' Conference here in the White Mountains were the Republican governors themselves.

There are only 12 of them, down from 32 just seven years ago.

And unless the 1978 elections augment their ranks considerably, not only the GOP governors but the Republican party itself could wind up on the endangered species list.

That is why this year's conference was a school for candidates hoping to capture state houses around the country during the 36 gubernatorial elections next year.

Somewhat belatedly, national GOP leaders have realized that the party's traditional focus on the White House and Congress has resulted in a withering of its roots at the state and local level.

With reapportionment looming after the 1980 census, Republicans could be written off the political map of America unless they are strong enough to influence the drawing of new election district boundaries.

Notwithstanding the Supreme Court's one man, one vote ruling a decade ago, political boundary lines still follow partisan strength. The GOP's current weakness is vividly reflected in the gap between its vote count in the 1976 congressional elections and its seats in Congress.

Republican candidates for Congress last year drew 42.2 percent of all votes cast, according to the GOP National Committee. Yet Republicans hold only 33.3 percent of the seats in the House.

No less an authority than John

Connally, whose own ambitions are exclusively national at this juncture, is urging an all-out drive on the state houses next year by the national party apparatus.

GOP Chairman Bill Brock was already ahead of Connally. The Republican Governors' Association, which has never before engaged in fund-raising activities, hopes to collect $300,000 for next year's campaigns and the National Committee will add $250,000 of its own to that pot.

The prospects are reasonably good. Party professionals think Republican candidates will be viable competitors in all but about eight of the 36 gubernatorial races next year. There is almost no chance for Republicans to gain the state houses in the two biggest states — New York and California — or in Southern states like Georgia, Alabama, and Arkansas.

But the West, where GOP Gov. Jay Hammond of Alaska is all by his lonesome right now, offer a golden opportunity, especially after President Ford's sweep of the region last year. Oregon, Colorado, Wyoming, Arizona, Idaho, New Mexico, South Dakota — all may be ripe for the Republicans.

Even optimists at the GOP National Committee acknowledge the best the Republicans can hope to do is to double their present pitiful numbers in the state houses, from 12 to 24 or 25 governors.

That might not seem like an ambitious goal, but for a party facing possible extinction through reapportionment, it may be the GOP's last best hope for survival. Governors don't generally draw political boundary maps, but they can vote them. And that would put the brakes on the Republican party's long skid towards oblivion.

Business-Backed Funds Growing

WASHINGTON — Approximately 500 active political action committees representing business interests are already preparing to contribute to 1978 congressional campaigns.

And by next year there undoubtedly will be many more of them. Sixty-seven were formed this year, and new committees are being established by corporations all the time.

By contrast, only 225 political action committees now represent labor interests, and no new groups have been established since the 1976 presidential election.

This steady increase in business-related committees trouble liberal congressmen and women, who worry about the influence the contributions might buy. If the trend continues, business committees will dominate not only conservative Republican congressional financing but Democratic financing too.

Few corporations and banks had political action committees prior to the 1974 elections; they were doubtful about their legality and aware that the corporate entities themselves could not legally contribute to political campaigns. The Federal Election Commission, however, subsequently ruled that businesses could solicit their executives and stockholders for such committees and focused attention on this debate.

There is no limit on the amount of funds such a committee may accumulate, but it and any affiliated committee may contribute a total of only $5,000 to an individual in a primary and $5,000 in a general election.

Printed by the specter of future congressional opponents richly financed by special interest donations, liberal House members are moving to try to revive campaign financing reform. The Senate killed the idea with a filibuster in August.

But the bill's supporters have a scheme. They hope to bring a measure approving public financing only for House campaigns to a floor vote before the November adjournment, or at least early in January. It might be passed as part of a Federal Election Commission funding bill already approved by the Senate, which would then go to a Senate-House conference. The idea is that the Senate conferees might let it go through since it will only affect House campaigns.

It seems unlikely that the Senate would be willing to permit the awkwardness that two separate systems of political financing might create, but it's worth a try.

The House campaign financing reform would set a $150,000 spending limit on any candidate who accepts public funds. He would receive public funds up to $50,000 for every private contribution of $100 or less. In addition, he could spend only $25,000 of his own money. Accepting public funds would be purely voluntary; any candidate could still finance his campaign totally with private contributions if he wished, and in that case no spending limit would apply.

The bill, which provides for a mix of public and private financing, may seem unduly restrictive in its ceiling limitation. It is not a perfect plan. But it would at least represent a beginning and provide an opportunity to test the concept.

Redd Foxx Says He'll Quit First

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Comedian Redd Foxx says he will quit his ABC television series rather than apologize to actress Farrah Fawcett-Majors for a satire on her family which appeared on the show.

Foxx, in an interview Thursday on television station KNXT, a CBS affiliate, said he would not tape any more shows for the Redd Foxx Comedy Hour.

Good Idea For Congress To Look Backward

It is good now and then for Congress to step back from the daily battles over individual spending proposals and take a good look at the overall picture. It also can be a bit frightening.

Sen. Harry Byrd Jr. of Virginia has taken such a look, and this is what he found. At the end of the fiscal year now underway, the federal government will have accumulated a debt of $787 billion. Half of that was added in the last eight years.

In addition, the budget deficit for this year — estimated at $78 billion — will be the largest deficit in history. One of the largest items in the federal budget now is interest on past borrowings. For this year it will be $46 billion.

What also means is that at the current rate of deficit accumulation, the national debt will pass the trillion-dollar mark in less than three years. If Congress was reminded more frequently of its past excesses, perhaps it would be more cautious with the new ones it continues to generate.

Alaska's Mt. McKinley Due For Name Change?

"What's in a name?" William Shakespeare asked. Plenty, say the folks who want to change the name of Alaska's 20,320-foot Mount McKinley — the highest mountain in North America — to the original Indian name of Denali. Proponents and opponents of the name change will have a chance to express their views at two public hearings scheduled by the U.S. Board on Geographic Names, an interdepartmental group responsible for providing standardized names on federal maps and other publications. The first hearing will be held on Tuesday, Oct. 25 in Washington, D.C., the second on Thursday, Nov. 10, in Anchorage, Alaska.

The controversy over the mountain's name began in 1896 when William Dickey, a prospector and explorer, named the peak after Gov. William McKinley of Ohio. McKinley's selection as the Republican nominee for the presidency was the first news Dickey and his party heard as they made their way out of the wilderness. (McKinley was elected President later that year.) A number of proposals have been made since then to change the name back to the original. The first such proposal appears to have been made in books written by the Rev. Hudson Stuck, who was a member of the first party to have successfully climbed Mount McKinley in 1913. The effort received fresh impetus when the Alaskan Legislature adopted a resolution in 1975 requesting the Secretary of the Interior to officially change the name to Denali.

Proponents of the name change say it would be appropriate as a gesture of friendship and recognition of the original Indian residents of Alaska, and that the name Denali — which means "The Great One" — is more descriptive and meaningful than the name of a President who had no special interest in Alaska. As might be expected, all 25 members of Ohio's congressional delegation oppose the change. Opposition has also come from travel and business groups which cite, among other things, the cost of making changes in existing maps, books and other materials.

Proponents of the name change can take heart from the residents of Cape Canaveral, Fla., who won their identity back in 1973. For 10 years the community had been known as Cape Kennedy, after the late President. But residents finally convinced the Board on Geographic Names to restore the name that historians believe was bestowed on the area by the Spanish explorer Ponce de Leon.

Rowdyism Pulls Police To SJHS

St. Joseph High School Principal Richard Higgs said this morning disciplinary action against students involved in a protest Thursday will await "complete identification of leaders, those who were disruptive and those who were out of classes."

Hundreds Involved In Protest.

Higgs said his "rough estimate" was that 400 of the school's 1,400 students were involved in the protest that was originally billed to "Save Our Trees."

"Monday, we expect to have an analysis of the leaders in the confrontation with police and know who was and wasn't in class."

No injuries were reported during the demonstration that began as a protest over the cutting of trees and brush on the north end of the campus in a ravine known as "Smokers Corner." Two windows were reported broken in the school.

The demonstration started just before noon and lasted about two and a half hours. St. Joseph police reported. Five other police agencies were called in during the confrontation that started with the blocking of Lake View Avenue in front of the school.

Higgs said at least two factions were — one with an apparent sincere interest in the environment and the other which wanted to be disruptive.

The demonstration ended, Higgs said when he told five student representatives that the cutting of trees had been halted Tuesday after science teacher Joe Collins said a couple of trees worth saving had been cut.

The rest of the vegetation is brush being cleared in a campus beautification project by workers paid with federal Comprehensive Employment Training Act funds.

Higgs said some of the demonstrators obviously were more concerned over exposing their smoking spot than preserving the environment. Student smoking is banned on the campus both by school police and state law, Higgs explained.

Higgs said: "I busted some kids for smoking pot down there (earlier this week), although I didn't turn them over to police."

Someone pulled a fire alarm at 11:05, when the lunch hour began, and that helped increase the number of students at the start of the protest, Higgs said.

At the beginning, demonstrators stood on a hill over the ravine and shouted "save the trees." But when the first policeman arrived some of the protesters dragged recently clipped trees and cut limbs onto the street to block the car.

Other students cleared the brush from the street and went back to class, saying they were disappointed at the way the demonstration had turned.

One of the demonstrators who remained said "They're trying to stop us from smoking and that ain't right."

Police walked among the students, asking them to clear the street. Police were called names, there were a few pushing incidents, and a girl tried to grab the hat of St. Joseph Patrolman Max Kobschall. She and Kobschall struggled and she was placed in a squad car. Protesters opened a door of the car and the girl ran away.

Police Chief William Mihalik said the matter will be referred to the prosecutor's office to determine possible charges against the girl.

Mihalik said he called other police departments to the scene when it appeared that the demonstration needed "some policing."

Other departments responding were Berrien Sheriff's Department, Benton Harbor, Benton Township, state police and St. Joseph Township.

A sheriff's patrol car was reported dented when it was kicked.

Students cleared the street on their own and moved into the building to talk with Higgs who spoke with student leaders in his office.

Barclay A. Johnson, a senior who was one of the representatives, said "I don't believe we did it the right way."

Another representative who spoke with Higgs, Tammy Nelson, a junior, said "the students were responsible for the trouble. When the police came we all got rowdy and we shouldn't have."

Superintendent Burton Mielich said he understands the BLOCKING STREET: A small group of St. Joseph High School students dragged limbs to block Lake View avenue during demonstration Thursday. Other students helped clear debris from street. Traffic on Lake View was blocked more than hour.

'ILL-TIMED' PROTEST: St. Joseph High School students streamed into hallway Thursday demanding to talk with Principal Richard Higgs in protest over tree cutting. Brian Tunnell, president of Student Senate, told them protest was "ill-timed." Higgs spoke with student representatives and told them tree cutting had been stopped two days ago.

LaGrange Recall Is Dec. 13

CASSOPOLIS — The special election on the recall of LaGrange Township Supervisor Bernard Roethel will be held Dec. 13, Cass County Clerk Kenneth Poe announced Thursday night.

He said recall petitions submitted to township officials earlier this month had enough valid signatures to set up the recall election.

Roethel, 47, elected to the post in November, 1976, is the only township board member whose name will be on the recall ballot.

He has been the target of complaints leveled by the LaGrange Township Taxpayers' Association which claims that Roethel is guilty of "misconduct in office" in connection with property re-appraisals made in the county earlier this

The taxpayers' association is claiming that too many property owners never had the chance to appeal the re-appraisals to the township tax board of review.

Roethel in May announced he was resigning the supervisor's post, but never followed that announcement with a written resignation and remained in office. Township Clerk Frank Windhamer said previously

PROTEST BEGINS: Confrontation yesterday between police and St. Joseph High School students began as organized protest against what students said was the senseless destruction of trees on campus. "Save the trees," marchers shouted, as they stood in area called "Smoker's Corner." Protest ended when Principal Richard Higgs told demonstration leaders cutting of trees had been halted two days earlier. (Staff photos)

'Black Only Rally' Slated To Tackle BH Problems

The Black Coalition of Berrien County will hold a "Black Only Rally," Saturday in Benton Harbor to stimulate citizens to work together to solve some of the city's problems, according to Annie Robinson, coalition chairman. The rally will be held Saturday at 6:30 p.m. in a former Model Cities meeting room at 925 Buss Ave., Mrs. Robinson said. Crime, rat infestation, the quality of city government, streets, unemployment, drugs and poor living conditions will be discussed. Mrs. Robinson said the coalition hopes the meeting will result in ideas about how blacks can work together to resolve the problems. The rally is not restricted to blacks, but the "Black Only" designation was made to be sure that the black community attends, Mrs. Robinson explained.

Stevensville Okays Sale Of Vintage Fire Truck

The Stevensville Village Council acted Thursday night to keep a 1935-vintage village fire truck in the village but in private ownership.

Council action came after Lloyd Both of the fire department outlined three plans for disposing of the truck and asked for council selection of one of the three.

Under the approved plan, the truck is to be sold to a businessman who offered to buy the truck for $500 and resell it to the village later if he no longer wanted it.

The businessman was subsequently identified as Charles Kerlikowske, also a council member.

Both of the Tri-Unit Fire Department said the identity was not mentioned during the consideration in order not to sway the council action. The other plans were for the village to buy the truck outright or to put it up for general sale.

Both said the fire board agreed to dispose of the truck because of space requirements. He also said the board indicated it would abide by the village's decision.

In other action, the council voted to donate $1,000 to the operating budget of the Senior Citizens Center. A letter to the council from Mrs. Paula French, center director, indicated that services to seniors have doubled to 458 in 1976-77, from 224 in 1975-76.

A request by the senior citizens to use the new village hall as a nutrition center was tabled pending completion of a policy on rental of the hall.

In a related action, the council agreed to let the Tri-Unit Fire Department use the old village hall temporarily for meetings until the committee on rental policies makes its recommendations.

Because of complaints about trash being left on the streets over the weekend, the council requested all residents not to set out their trash until Monday mornings. The only exception is Sunday, Nov. 6, when large items may be set out for the annual fall pickup Nov. 7 and 8. Residents are requested to bundle any brush set out for this pickup.

Kevin Green's title of acting superintendent of public works was changed to superintendent by vote of the council.

Green was instructed by the council to conduct a survey of trees along village streets to determine which ones need to be trimmed or reinforced to prevent collapse in a storm.

The council okayed a request for a home business by James Lombardi, 5886 St. Joseph Ave., who plans to assemble small guitars at his home.

The council turned down an offer by Fred Schultz to purchase a village lot on Yaslick Drive, adjacent to his property. The council said the lot is not for sale, as the village needs it for storage of materials, and as a snow dumpsite.

HONORED BY CREDIT UNION: State Sen. Charles O. Zollar (R-Benton Harbor), right, receives Legislative Appreciation Award from Glen W. Fraverd, treasurer-manager of Twin-Cities Area Employees Credit Union. Zollar was honored last night as Southwestern Michigan Chapter of Credit Unions met at St. Joseph Kickers club, Arden, in observance of National Credit Union day. Fraverd said Zollar was honored for his part in passage of legislation favorable to credit unions and support of organizations. He said Zollar was instrumental in modernization of credit union act, which put state credit unions more on par with federal credit unions. (Mark Weber photo)

Gift For Hospital

NEONATAL CENTER: South Haven Community Hospital Auxiliary has purchased a neonatal intensive care center at a cost of $3,681.25 for the hospital. The center combines heat and accessibility with a complete medical procedural capability. It is actually a miniature operating room table, suitable for use in delivery, surgery and recovery, as well as the intensive care nursery. Money was raised by the auxiliary from the annual membership drive, coffee shop, shopper's cart as well as various other fund raising projects. Shown with the unit are, from left, Mrs. Harold (Sara) Gaarde, auxiliary desk service chairman; Fred Zook, chairman of the hospital board of directors, and Margaret Begel, RN. (Tom Renner photo)

Preschooler Examination Can Prevent Eye Damage

Eye specialists estimate that 80 per cent of all learning during a child's first 12 years is obtained through his vision. If a youngster has difficulty seeing his world he can have problems in all areas of learning, including forming social relationships.

One in 20 preschool children has a vision defect. If it is not discovered until the school eye examination, damage which cannot be undone may have already taken place. Some problems may not even be caught in that classroom examination so many parents rely upon.

The most common testing device used in schools is the Snellen "E" Chart. However, this only tests visual acuity at a distance. Most schoolwork is done in the near range of 10 to 20 inches. Gauging near vision, and testing for many other eye problems can only be done by an ophthalmologist or optometrist.

A thorough eye examination is generally recommended at the age of three — or earlier if there is any indication of a vision problem. At this age, children are old enough to cooperate with the eye doctor, yet young enough for many types of eye weaknesses to be discovered and corrected.

Amblyopia, or "lazy eye," is the most common eye disorder among very young children. The child with this problem sees better with one eye than the other and tends to favor the good eye, allowing the "lazy eye" to fall into a state of disuse which weakens it further. Treatment may involve use of an eye patch over the good eye, to force the lazy one to work and strengthen itself, or the use of corrective lenses.

Most cases of amblyopia can be improved if they are treated before the age of four; from four to seven, the percentage of improvement drops. It is often too far advanced to be treated successfully by the time the child reaches school age.

Another common problem is myopia, a nearsightedness. In one study, one child in every hundred youngsters age six to seven, was myopic. The percentage rose to 9.5 in those aged 12, and estimates of myopia among 10 to 18 year olds range from 20 percent cent upwards.

About one-fifth of all children in the United States have some form of learning disability. While not all of these are solely related to vision problems, doctors agree that eye problems can be a key factor in many cases. Regular eye examinations can detect such situations and may lead to diagnosis and treatment of the overall disability.

When a vision problem is found which requires corrective lenses, both parent and child can take part in the selection process. Even the youngest child enjoys trying on different frames and picking his favorites.

Selecting lens material, however, is not just a matter of taste as is usually the case with frames. Plastic lenses are lighter in weight, which may be important if a very powerful thick lens is required. However, plastic scratches more easily than glass, which can lead to the need for more frequent replacement. Plastic also requires special cleaning care, often too complicated for a child.

Both glass and plastic lenses are impact-resistant today, meeting strict government standards. So, for the active youngster, scratch-resistant glass may be the best choice.

Whichever is chosen, the lenses may outlast the prescription. A child's vision changes as he grows, so a thorough eye examination should be repeated annually.

Dental Seminar

Ann Ehrlich, CDA, MA, will be keynote speaker at Lakeland Valley Dental Assistants Society's "Dental Malpractice: A Seminar" Wednesday, Oct. 26, at Benton Harbor Holiday Inn.

Seminar will include such topics as ethics and ethical conduct, jurisprudence, the dentist and the law, the doctrine of respondent superior, liabilities in dentistry, the common grounds for malpractice suits, the role of the dental assistant in avoiding unjustified malpractice suits and the dental office death.

Miss Ehrlich, a noted dental assisting educator, author and management consultant, is presently coordinator of professional education programs, Colwell Company, Champaign, Ill.

She is co-author of "Dental Practice Management — The Teamwork Approach" and the textbook, "Modern Dental Assisting," and the author of "Business Administration for the Dental Assistant."

Along with her textbooks, her "Fundamentals For Dental Auxiliaries" workbooks and her continuing education course, "Advanced Dental Practice Management," are used in many dental assisting programs, including the one at Lake Michigan College.

Miss Ehrlich is a certified dental assistant with a master of arts degree in education and is the former director of dental assisting at Mercer County Community College, Trenton, N.J.

The certifying board of the American Dental Assistants Association has approved Wednesday's seminar for six continuing education credits for dental assistant certification renewal.

Lakeland Valley Dental Assistants Society members serving as chairmen include: Sheran Wallis, reservations and publicity; Mary Watkins, speaker, and Mary Lhotka, arrangements.

Other countries represented included Japan, Mexico, Colombia, Peru, England, Yugoslavia, Canada, South Africa, France, Taiwan, and Brazil. The visitors like American beef also — from hamburger to steak — and pizza and milkshakes are popular too. Leco Corporation manufactures and markets analytical instruments for the iron and steel making industry throughout the world. (Staff photo)

Plan Meals For Dieting

Dieting? Nutritionists agree that the way to lose weight that will remain off is to lose it slowly and by planning meals that are low in only one thing: calories.

Authorities also recommend that approximately half the calories, even in weight-reduction programs, should come from carbohydrates.

National Business Women's Week

This week — Oct. 16-22 — is National Business Women's Week which is being observed locally by Twin Cities Business and Professional Women.

According to Cora Anderson, president of the local chapter, the week is sponsored by the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc.

A proclamation signed by Michigan Governor William Milliken, Benton Harbor Mayor Joel Patterson, and St. Joseph Mayor Frank Smith, urges residents to join in the salute to working women by encouraging and promoting the celebration of the achievements of all business and professional women as they contribute daily to this country's economic, civic, and cultural progress.

The proclamations note that working women constitute 34.5 million of the nation's working force — women who are constantly striving to serve their communities, their states, and their nation in civic and cultural programs.

The proclamations say, "Major goals of business and professional women are to help create better conditions for business women through the study of social, educational, economic, and political problems; to help them be of greater service to their community, and to further friendship with women throughout the world."

Survey Shows More Women Entering Science Fields

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — Sex barriers in the sciences are beginning to fall as women across America enter science fields in record numbers, according to a survey by the Women's College Coalition, an organization based in Washington, D.C.

Mary Lew Eldridge, 19, a chemistry major at Stephens College here, is one of this country's "new wave" going into the sciences.

"I've always been interested in science," she said. "I guess that because my mother is a nurse I always considered science a logical field to enter."

But exemplifying the difference a generation can make, her own goals include medical school and a general practice in a rural community similar to Nampa, Idaho, where she grew up.

Her preference for a small, informal atmosphere is also one of the reasons she chose a women's college for her education, Miss Eldridge says.

"I knew that I would get individual attention at Stephens, which has a good science program," said Miss Eldridge, who will be a junior next fall. "It's important to have thorough knowledge of the basics in order to get into medical school. I feel that I am getting a good foundation here."

STUDENT INTERN Mary Lew Eldridge and Charles Payne, medical researcher at the Harry S. Truman Memorial Veterans Hospital in Columbia, Mo., perform surgery on a lab animal as part of their research on the causes of high blood pressure.

As a part of her studies, she is participating in a research internship at Harry S. Truman Memorial Veterans Hospital in Columbia, one of many such programs springing up across the country.

"We are doing research on the causes of high blood pressure,"

Miss Eldridge explained. Under the supervision of Dr. J. Alan Johnson, endocrinology specialist, she will write a paper to present to the Missouri Academy of Sciences later this year.

"I'm pleased with the opportunity to do individual research," said Miss Eldridge.

"Our work in the lab reaffirms my decision to go to medical school."

Women's colleges have been excelling in expanded science programs in recent years, Women's College Coalition officials point out. During the 1976-77 academic year, over half of the National Science Foundation grants for women in sciences awarded to private colleges went to women's colleges.

Across the nation, the fastest growing majors at women's colleges all have career implications, educators note. Business administration, biology and economics, in that order, are showing the strongest gains in terms of student registration.

"Women are moving into the science fields because they see lots of options opening up to them," says Jewel Plummer Cobb, Dean of Douglass College, a public women's college in New Jersey and a member of the Women's College Coalition. "They like the opportunities available in over 700 science related fields. We at women's colleges are attempting to meet their demands by increasing our math and science degree offerings."

At present only about 10 percent of all employed scientists in the United States are women.

Films Sunday

CINEMA ARTS: "Why Worry?" and "Never Weaken" will be the first offerings of Cinema Arts Society's 1977-78 season. Films will be shown Sunday, Oct. 23, at 4 p.m. at Southtown Theater Cinema One, St. Joseph. Above is a scene from "Why Worry?", one of the two Harold Lloyd films of the silent film era. Season memberships are $8.50 and will be sold at the theater prior to the showing. Single admission tickets are $2.50.

Breast Exam Program Tuesday

SOUTH HAVEN — A free self-breast examination program for women will be offered Tuesday, Oct. 25, in the Fellowship Hall of First Congregational Church.

Two hour sessions will include a film and will be held at 10 a.m., 2 p.m. and 7 p.m. A nursery will be provided for the day sessions.

The clinic will be sponsored by South Haven Community Hospital, hospital auxiliary and the Cancer Society.

Janet Olson, RN, will direct the clinic. According to Mrs. Olson, this will not be a physical examination, but rather women will be taught how to give themselves a self-examination for lumps in the breast.

TC Camera Club Exhibit At SMC

DOWAGIAC — Forty-five color and black and white photographs by members of Twin City Camera Club (TCCC) are in a four-week exhibit in the O'Leary Art Gallery at Southwestern Michigan College.

The public is invited to visit the display through Nov. 11. Exhibit hours are Monday through Thursday from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. and Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. TCCC is dedicated to the advancement of interest in photography and works with youth groups and schools toward this goal. There are presently 90 members.

Twenty-nine years ago the club began sponsorship of a travel and adventure series of lectures. The group now presents seven lectures a year in the St. Joseph High School Auditorium on three successive days.

The club has its club rooms in St. Joseph. Pictures in the SMC exhibit range from modern architecture to nature photography.

There is no admission charge for viewing the display, which is at SMC as a portion of the college's series of special community activities.

Library Closed Monday

Benton Harbor Public Library will be closed Monday, Oct. 24, in observance of Veteran's Day.

Books added to the library collection include "The Children's Rights Movement" by Beatrice and Ronald Gross; "A Place to Come," Robert Penn Warren; "Assassination Day," Oliver Jackson; "Echoes of Evil," Iris Canfor.

Also, "Family Guide to Haircutting and Styling," Sal Feder; "Insanity Runs in Our Family," Hal Bennett; "The Book of Miniatures," Helen Rulberg; "Pictorial History of Ships," J.H. Martin.

Others include, "Straight Answers About Homosexuality for Straight Readers," David Loois; "The Success Trip," Ross Firestone; "Home for Sale by Owners," Gerald Steiner, and "Great Disasters," John Canling.

Conference Set

Dr. Forrest C. Stevenson Jr., president of Christian Personality Dynamics, Inc., of Detroit, will be the speaker for the Family Life Conference to be held (night) through Sunday, Oct. 23, at First Assembly of God, Benton Harbor.

Dr. Stevenson will discuss "Ways of Finding Happiness in Marriage" and "How to Get Along with People."

A general session is planned at 7:30 p.m., tonight on the subject, "How to Live with an Imperfect Mate."

Other sessions to be led by Dr. Stevenson will be "What's Your Priority List," for a men's breakfast at 7:30 a.m., Saturday, Oct. 22; "The Liberated Christian Woman" for a women's luncheon at noon Saturday, Oct. 22; "Spaced Out or Turned On" for a youth program at 7:30 p.m., Saturday, Oct. 23.

Sessions planned Sunday, Oct. 23, include a general meeting at 9:45 a.m., "The Psychology of Christian Leadership," a general session, 10:45 a.m., "It's Not What You Eat: It's What Eats You," and a general session at 6 p.m., "Four Hangups That Defeat Christian Life."

Dr. Stevenson has combined his education and background in theology with one in psychology. He holds graduate degrees from the University of Detroit and Central Baptist Theological Seminary. He conducts seminars throughout the Midwest and Canada and hosts a radio show.

He is certified by the State of Michigan as a Marriage and Family Counselor.

String Quartet Program Oct. 25

HOLLAND — Chilingirian String Quartet, winners of the 1975 Young Concert Artist international auditions, will present a concert Tuesday, Oct. 25, at 8 p.m. in Dimmet Memorial Chapel, Hope College.

The concert is the second event of the 1977-78 Holland Great Performance Series.

Holland has reciprocal agreements with concert associations in Benton Harbor-St. Joseph, Muskegon and LaPorte, Ind.

The seven-event Great Performance Series is co-sponsored by the Holland Concert Association and the Hope College Cultural Affairs committee.

Single admission tickets are $4, but will not be sold until 15 minutes before the performance, if seats are available.

The Chilingirian String Quartet was the first quartet to become artist-members of the New York-based Young Concert Artists since the Tokyo String Quartet.

Formed in 1971 by the present quartet members — violinists Levon Chilingirian and Mark Butler, violist, Simon Rowland-Jones and cellist Philip de Groote — the quartet became quartet-in-residence at the University of Liverpool in 1973.

The following year, the quartet earned international recognition with an outstanding performance at the European Broadcasting Union's string quartet competition in Stockholm, as a result of which they were invited to open the EBU's International String Quartet Series, a performance that was broadcast throughout Europe and Canada.

The Chilingirian Quartet has toured Canada, France, Italy and Belgium and are regular performers throughout Britain and on the BBC.

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

A Miracle For Overeaters

Dear "I Need A Miracle": You told Ann Landers you are piling yourself with food. Well, let me tell you, dear — you don't have to die. Listen to my story: I am 40 years old and weighed 203 lbs. I use the past tense "weighed" because I have been on the program of Overeaters Anonymous for the past 100 days and as of this morning I weigh 160 lbs.

You have admitted that you are addicted to food. This is the first step toward recovery. You also refer to yourself as a foodaholic which is exactly what I am, and so is every other Oater.

For the sake of your sanity and your life, please get in touch with an Overeaters Anonymous group in your area. We are all over the country and I'm sure you'll be able to find a meeting place you can attend. There are meetings going on during the day as well as the evenings.

You'll meet people who have gone through experiences similar to what you are going through now.

The fantastic thing about Overeaters Anonymous is the love and encouragement you'll find there. You'll meet people who really care about you. Look in the phone book under Overeaters Anonymous and find out where the nearest meeting place is and when the next meeting takes place. I'm not trying to push you, but you sound as though you are ready to accept what we have to offer.

Please give us a chance to help you. It's like being reborn. I know you'll make it with OA because I am making it right now and it's the only thing that has worked. I tried every kooky diet and every group under the sun. I am now — A Life Saved.

Dear A.L.S.: I received over 1,000 letters within three days from believers in Overeaters Anonymous asking me to send "Miracle" to them. Such a tremendous following and abiding faith must be earned.

So — I second the motions and urge all foodaholics to look in the phone book under Overeaters Anonymous. If you don't find it, write to the National Headquarters of Overeaters Anonymous at 2190 190th Street, Torrance, Calif. 90504. Telephone: (213) 320-7940. The phone number in Chicago is 384-1819.

Church Rat

Dear Ann Landers: In 1975 you advised a lonesome girl who had trouble meeting nice men to take a few adult education courses at the local university and join organizations so she could meet people whose interests were similar to hers. Then you added, "Church groups have a lot to offer." My 28-year-old daughter, Tillie, joined a church group on your say and that's where she met Albert. She devoted her whole life to him for 22 months. We had him to dinner twice a week and they even took a little trip together.

Last week, Albert's wife showed up at our door with three little kids. She asked Tillie to please leave her husband alone. We almost died of the shock. He seemed so respectable and decent.

So please, Ann, don't recommend church groups as a place to meet nice men. It's a perfect front for scoundrels. — Columbus, Ohio

Dear Columbus: Churches have rats, too, but that doesn't mean your daughter should go out with them. There's no substitute for common sense. A woman who sees a man for 22 months and doesn't pick up a single clue that he is married and has three kids is not very bright.

There is a big difference between cold and cool. Ann Landers shows you how to play it cool without freezing people out in her booklet, "Teen-Age Sex — Ten Ways to Cool It." Send 50 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11995, Chicago, Ill. 60611.

HEALTH

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — In your column on "Cholesterol Can Be Confusing," you stated, fish, chicken and red meats all contain about 70 milligrams per 100 grams (three-and-a-half ounces). In some articles on foods for people to eat while dieting chicken is mentioned as "A Dieter's Delight." Would you please comment on the value of chicken?

DEAR READER — Since a well-balanced diet should contain either fish, chicken or red meats it is important to realize they all contain cholesterol. That doesn't mean that you can't use these foods. It means that you shouldn't squander your daily cholesterol allotment on high cholesterol foods that would cause you to have to overly restrict these important food items.

Chicken and young turkeys are both good for a diet. Why? Because the low fat pieces provide a good source of protein while not adding fat calories to your diet. It is the fat content here that we are interested in, not the cholesterol. The light meat without the skin and fat is a very low fat food, 100 grams of the raw flesh of fryer chicken (no skin or bone) contains only 100 calories. Of course you must not add fat in preparing it. A whole pound of the raw light meat only would only give you 454 calories — one calorie per gram — and at the same time provide more than 80 grams of good protein. The small amount of fat in lean chicken also contains a reasonable amount of polyunsaturated fat and a limited amount of saturated fat.

Half of the battle in preparing a non-fattening diet is how you select and prepare foods. That makes it easier to follow a diet without suffering. To give you more information on how to do this I am sending you The Health Letter number 9-12, Kitchen Power for Weight Control. You'll find that kitchen power is more effective than will power. Others who want this information can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 328, San Antonio, TX 78282.

DEAR DR. LAMB — My granddaughter is 18 months old and is having trouble cutting her teeth. Her parents rub whiskey on her gums occasionally when they seem to bother her a lot. I am not sure this is a very good idea. What do you think? Do you have any suggestions as to what else could be tried?

DEAR READER — It is an age old problem. Some children do have difficult eruption. The gingiva (gums) may become inflamed at the area and sometimes there will be a mild infection under a flap of the gingival tissue over the erupting tooth.

Rubbing whiskey on the surface will not help. It isn't enough to be absorbed and act as a general anesthetic and I wouldn't recommend that anyway. It won't help the localized infection if there is one either.

The time-honored practice of using a hard blunt object to chew on — a teething object — is still recommended. Also it is wise to keep the mouth clean. If there is an area of inflammation, local treatment by the baby's doctor might be helpful.

The only value in rubbing whiskey on the area is to make the parents feel they have tried to do something. That, too, is sometimes important.

Easy, Quick Hors D'oeuvre

Take the rush out of holiday party preparation with this easy do-ahead hors d'oeuvre recipe. Rinse one pound fresh mushrooms under running water. Remove stems. Drain thoroughly. Pour one bottle of Italian dressing over mushrooms and marinate for several hours or even overnight. Stir occasionally. Serve on cocktail picks.

Chore Immunity

Sometimes, I curse the day my children became toilet-trained. It seemed like such a wonderful idea at the time. It would cut down on laundry. It would certainly make us more socially acceptable as a family. And I could take all these newspapers up off the floor once and for all. Now it seems the trainees have turned against us and are using the bathroom to their own advantage.

Every time the phone rings, one of them runs to the bathroom and yells, "Would someone get the phone?"

Every time the dog scratches to get out I hear, "I can't do it. I'm in the bathroom."

The other night after dinner, we figured out which two kids were on for dishes. With all the precision of a fire drill, one pushed away from the table, turned on the hot water tap full force in the sink, added a squirt of detergent and headed for the bathroom. The other followed closely, turned the water off and headed for the second bathroom. We were not to see either of them again until the milk had soured and the leftovers had left us permanently.

The bathroom has become the only bastille in the American home that insures diplomatic immunity from every chore you can think of.

"Where is your brother? I want him to help carry in groceries from the car."

"He's in the bathroom."

"Hurry up or you're going to miss your school bus and I'll have to drive you to school."

"I'm in the bathroom."

As a mother who must depend on inefficient, cheap labor of children, I've used every underhanded, sleazy trick I know to make the bathroom unattractive. In addition to not cleaning it, I turn the heat on during the summer and the air conditioning on during the winter months. I've cut off subscriptions to the popular magazines formerly delivered there and substituted Bleeding Gums Journal and Who's Who in Needlepoint.

None of it has worked. They still spend 18 hours a day there in exile.

In the not-too-distant future I can hear the minister at the altar saying to the bride, "Where is the bridegroom?"

It's something I hate to think about.

Bernice Bode Ocol

Your Birthday

Saturday, Oct. 22, 1977

Lady Luck may take a more active interest in you this coming year than she has for some time. Through her good offices she could help swell your bank account and standing in the community.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) The opportunities around you today are larger in scope than usual. Be alert for unique clues that could tip you off to something big. Find out who you're romantically suited to by sending for your copy of Astro-Graph Letter. Mail 50 cents for each and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Astro-Graph, P.O. Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify your birth sign.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Conditions as a whole are extremely favorable for you today and things should go much to your liking. The one flaw: You're wasteful with your resources.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Persons who care for you will be diligently working for you today. Hurt feelings could result if you do not acknowledge their efforts properly.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You need to be involved in activities today with friends whose company you enjoy. Spending time alone could cause you to feel depressed.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) A substantial harvest is likely if you're enterprising today. Focus your energies on areas that could add to your income.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Be yourself today. You'll easily win and influence friends. Pretense in any form diminishes the luster of your image.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You'll be fortunate today working on large or unusual ideas partially developed by others. What you're able to add makes them more worthwhile.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Friends and acquaintances will play important roles in your affairs today. You'll be lucky with old allies, but you could be deceived by one you've recently met.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Important achievements are possible today. Concentrate solely on major goals. Devote little time to frivolous side issues.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Your warm, friendly manner makes you a very pleasant person to be around today. Unfortunately, duties will be neglected while you pursue pleasure.

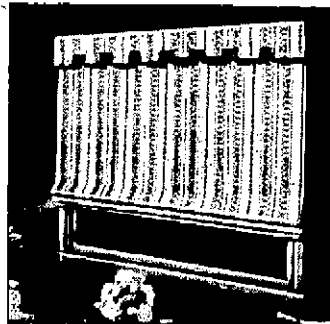

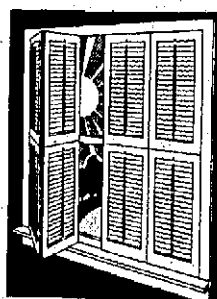

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) This should be a profitable day, as you're very clever in commercial dealings. Follow your hunches.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Associate with worthy allies today. Your greatest benefits will come through persons you're teamed up with. Select potential winners.

Kin Denies He Spied On Young For FBI

DETROIT (AP) — The unemployed brother-in-law of Detroit Mayor Coleman Young is indignant about reports that he was a spy for the FBI. He says he never gave any information to federal agents about anyone. Willie Clyde Volsan Jr., 54, called a news conference Thursday to deny published reports that he had been paid by the FBI to keep track of Mayor Young's comings and goings.

While he was at it, he denied he ever had been involved in drug dealing. Referring to himself as a retired factory worker, Volsan said he has two court suits pending for worker's disability compensation because of pinched nerves in his back.

Volsan refused to answer any questions about the source of his income or his family life, protesting that such queries were "too personal." On several occasions during the 45-minute news session with reporters, he threatened to walk out if questions continued to ask about his income or his family.

Volsan acknowledged he is a personal friend of convicted drug dealer Kenneth Garrett, now serving time in federal prison.

"Garrett was a friend of mine before he went to prison," said Volsan. "He is a friend now. And he will be a friend when he gets out."

Volsan has been linked through court documents to several convicted drug dealers. He confirmed that he had been convicted in the 1950s for involvement in the numbers racket, refusing to say if he had been involved in numbers after that.

Federal sources said Volsan was the target of a 1974 probe into alleged drug trafficking out of a Detroit bar formerly owned by Mayor Young. The year-long probe ended without any charges being brought against Volsan.

Panama Okay Of Treaty Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — While treaty negotiators say U.S. public opinion appears to be turning in favor of the Panama Canal treaty, Secretary of State Cyrus Vance predicts the pact will be approved in a national plebiscite in Panama on Sunday.

Vance told the House International Affairs Committee on Thursday it would be "foolhardy for me to speculate" on a vote margin, but said the Carter administration's "best information is that it will receive approval."

Rock Band's Airplane Crashes In Mississippi; Six Killed

McCOMB, Miss. (AP) — Six persons, including three members of the Lynyrd Skynyrd rock band, were killed when their twin-engine airplane crashed while attempting an emergency landing.

Twenty others were injured in the Thursday night crash.

The propeller-driven Convair 440 skidded across tree tops for about 100 yards, then slammed nose first into a swampy area and split open about eight miles short of the McComb airport after reporting it was "having fuel trouble or was running low on fuel," an air traffic controller reported.

The dead were lead singer Ronnie Van Zant; guitarist Steve Gaines; his sister, vocalist Cassie Gaines; pilot Walter Wiley McCreary; copilot William John Gray, and Dean Kilpatrick, assistant road manager for the group, officials said.

Six other members of the band were injured. Others injured included members of the group's road crew and a television cameraman, officials of Southwest Mississippi Medical Center said.

The crash twisted the cockpit to the left and threw seven or eight persons to the ground, witnesses said. The impact threw other passengers together into the front of the aircraft.

"They were all in front of the plane and they were all shouting, 'Get me out, get me, get me,'" said Constable Gerald Wall. "We were actually standing on top of some people to get the others out."

The group was en route from a Wednesday night performance in Greenville, S.C., to a Friday night concert at Louisiana State University in Baton Rouge.

The plane had passed McComb when it reported that it was having fuel trouble and was told by the Houston, Tex., flight center to turn around and land at McComb, said Everett Fairly, an air traffic controller at McComb.

Carter Embarks On 2-Day Western Trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter, embarking on a two-day transcontinental trip into five states that voted against him, is counting on live regional broadcasts to help him get his message across to the voters.

Carter scheduled a late morning departure today for Detroit and a locally televised "public forum" on urban problems. Mrs. Carter, who campaigned in New Jersey Thursday for Gov. Brendan Byrne, is not making the trip.

From Michigan, the President was heading for Iowa, Nebraska, Colorado and California — all states that went for former President Gerald R. Ford in last November's balloting.

Late Thursday, the office of Vice President Walter F. Mondale announced Carter was adding a sixth state, Minnesota, to his crowded itinerary. Minnesota voted for the Carter-Mondale ticket.

The President will stop in Minneapolis Sunday, en route home from Los Angeles, to pick up ailing Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey and his wife, Muriel. Humphrey will be returning to Washington for the first time since he underwent surgery in August for what has been diagnosed as inoperable cancer.

Civic leaders and representatives of the urban poor were invited to join Carter in Detroit for a roundtable discussion of federal policies affecting cities. The President has promised he will soon unveil a comprehensive urban strategy designed to help meet complaints from blacks and others disturbed about high unemployment, deteriorating housing and other urban problems.

The entire trip comes as Carter and his advisers are seeking ways to bolster the President's sagging approval rating in public opinion polls.

From Detroit, Carter was going to Des Moines to address a Democratic fund-raising dinner before spending the night at a farm in Indiana, Iowa.

Following an early morning meeting with area farmers Saturday, Carter will go to Omaha to tour the underground nerve center of the Strategic Air Command at Offutt Air Force Base.

Moving on to drought-stricken Colorado, the President will take part in a public discussion of federal water policy, a subject of area controversy, and then address a regional briefing session on the Panama Canal treaty.

The conference on the treaty, which faces strong opposition in much of the West, will be broadcast live on a four-state television hookup.

Carter will end the day in Los Angeles at a $1,000-a-plate Democratic dinner.

President To Sit Down With Poor In Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — President Carter plans to sit down with a dozen poor people to discuss the ravaging effects of poverty in an unusual presidential roundtable. Following today's roundtable, Carter arranged to answer questions from an audience made up predominantly of the poor.

Detroit's an appropriate site for the Carter visit. The city has massive problems, including an unemployment rate for black teenagers estimated at 75 to 90 per cent in parts of the city. The scene of bloody and destructive civil disturbance just 10 years ago, it is still trying to rebuild.

The current auto sales boom has brought a big drop in adult unemployment and a financial surge for the city government. With millions of dollars in aid from Washington and the state, it oversees so many anti-poverty projects that one list of them runs to almost 30 pages.

Although the White House was not releasing any names of those joining Carter in the roundtable, an official said one participant is a teenager recently enrolled in a project designed to train jobless youths for private jobs. The Midwest forum is one of 10 regional meetings sponsored by the federal Community Services Administration.

The agency, through the forums, is soliciting advice on how best to run anti-poverty programs. White House aides say Carter may rejuvenate the agency, the successor to the Office for Economic Opportunity that was a key weapon in the Johnson administration's expensive anti-poverty campaign.

SJ Man, 20, Is Bound Over

Douglas Paul Wmison, 20, of 613 Miller Lane, St. Joseph Township, was bound over to Berrien Circuit Court Thursday after facing examination before Fifth District Court Judge Ronald J. Taylor.

Wmison is charged with carrying a concealed weapon — a .38-caliber revolver — in an automobile at Riverview Park in St. Joseph Township Sept. 18. He continued free on his own recognizance.

In other District Court cases, two people demanded examinations and 14 were sentenced.

In other court action, Charles Stamalakos, 21, Glendale, Ariz., demanded examination on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon — a .38-caliber pistol — in an auto on 1-94 in Chikaming Township on Oct. 19. He failed to post $10,000 bond and was jailed.

Vernon Baker Jr., 18, of 801 Highpoint Drive, Benton Harbor, demanded examination on a charge of receiving and concealing stolen property over $100 — a motorcycle — in Benton Harbor Oct. 18. He was jailed in lieu of $2,500 bond.

Thomas Headspeth, 24, of 1890 Highland Ave., Benton Township, pleaded guilty to a charge of attempted resisting and obstructing a police officer in Benton Township on Sept. 28, and was sentenced to 10 days in jail and fines and costs of $105 or 90 days. Headspeth had attempted to hide his brother, Jerome, who is accused of murdering Northern Dorsey Williams in Benton Harbor on Sept. 8.

Gary Lynn Hager, 22, of 413 Snow Road, Berrien Springs, was sentenced to 30 days and $200 for conspiracy to commit petty larceny — a canoe owned by Richard Proud — in Niles Township on Sept. 15.

Gary Lynn Flakes, 19, of 1007 Duss Ave., Benton Harbor, was sentenced to 30 days for receiving and concealing stolen property under $100 — a 1976 Van — in Benton Harbor on June 14.

Robin Hardy, 20, of Berrien Springs, was sentenced to 90 days for probation violation stemming from a charge of driving under the influence of intoxicants.

Russell Wayne Warden, 47, of 277 Ironwood Drive, Niles, was sentenced to three days and $70 or 20 days for driving with a suspended license in Bertrand Township on Oct. 18.

Sentenced for the following violations were:

Mattious destruction of property under $100 — Joseph

MISSING: Sabrina, bronze and wood nymph which has been stolen repeatedly by Amherst College pranksters during the past century. Is missing again. Three musketeers made off with the statue earlier this month in an apparent renewal of rivalry between odd and even-numbered graduating classes. In the past, the statue has been dumped in the ocean, shot in the head and dangled from a plume above a football game. Sabrina was last returned to public display in Amherst, Mass., last spring. School Bans Yule Carols BAYTOWN, Tex. (AP) — A religious discrimination suit has cast a Goose Creek school official in the role of Scrooge and forced him to say "Bah! Humbug!" to the singing of most Christmas carols in the schools.

On the advice of attorney, Supt. Johnny Clark has banned Christmas activities that deal with Christ during regular school hours, pending trial of the suit.

Two Denied New Trials In BH Shotgun Slaying

Motions for new trials from two men sentenced to life imprisonment for the 1973 slaying of Benton Harbor greaser Sam Baum were denied yesterday in Berrien Circuit Court.

Judge Julian E. Hughes denied the motions from Amos Ray Jr., 27, formerly of Benton Township, and Nathaniel Johnson, 22, formerly of Benton Harbor. Both were convicted of second degree murder and were sentenced to prison by Hughes.

They were convicted in the shotgun slaying of Baum at his grocery store on Rifford Street April 23, 1973. Although no money was reported taken from the store, the prosecution during the combined trial for the pair claimed the shooting came during an attempted armed robbery.

Ray and Johnson, as well as Johnson's brother, Anthony, also convicted in the murder, are serving their terms at Jackson prison.

All three were arrested on murder charges the day after Baum's death but were released when key witnesses failed to testify. The trio was indicted by the Berrien Citizens' Grand Jury after the same witnesses testified in secret grand jury proceedings and later in court.

The motions for new trials alleged there were errors in the grand jury and court proceedings, but Hughes denied the claims.

POLICE ROUNDUP Second Exposure Incident Reported

A St. Joseph woman told Benton Township police a man exposed himself to her from an auto at Fairplain Plaza Thursday afternoon.

Dispatcher Gloria Bowers said the woman came to police headquarters at 1:55 p.m. and reported the incident had occurred a short time earlier and was witnessed by two other women.

Police said only a sketchy description of the man was obtained. The man's car was described as a large blue and white model, they said.

Thursday's report was the second indecent exposure complaint received in as many days by Twin City area police.

Wednesday, a 17-year-old St. Joseph girl told St. Joseph police a man exposed himself from an orange auto as she was walking on Lake View Avenue near Archer Avenue.

Twin Cities area police Thursday received eight reports of thefts with lost totaling over $1,550 in goods, including five complaints of larceny of auto parts.

Benton Harbor police said Leta Genovese, of 578 Gastner, Benton Township, told them four wire wheel covers valued at a total of $475 were stolen from her 1970 Cadillac while the car was parked at Benton Harbor High School.

Other thefts from autos reported to Benton Harbor police included: Chrysler Imperial parked behind Roti Motors, Inc., 480 W. Main St.

Batteries valued at $40 each from autos owned by Ken Loren, of 419 W. Napier Ave., St. Joseph Township, and Steve Chaudohr, of 675 St. Joseph Road, Berrien Springs, while the cars were parked at Mercy Hospital, 900 Acard.

Berrien Sheriff's deputies said two hubcaps with a total value of $30 were stolen from an auto owned by Mary Browe, 420 Lake Shore Dr., Lincoln Township, while the car was parked at Slabod's West restaurant, 4220 Lake Shore, St. Joseph Township.

St. Joseph police reported Michael Lee Bandler, of Kalamazoo, told them a shotgun and a handgun valued at a total of $275 were missing from his auto which was stolen Thursday while parked on South State Street and later recovered in Kalamazoo.

Benton Harbor police said Josephine Doss, of 285 Hastings, reported a pistol, a watch, and assorted jewelry valued at a total of $280 were stolen from her home.

Berrien Sheriff's officers reported Elijah Wright, of Box 265C Evans Road, Pipestone Township, told them a brother, a record player, a radio and jewelry valued at a total of $190 were stolen from his home.

Benton Township police said Thursday William Pauders, of 5310 Territorial Rd., told them vandals kicked holes in eight doors, broke two storm windows, damaged six window screens and broke a toilet bowl at a house he owns at 2430

Decatur Teachers Approve Walkout

DECATUR — Decatur school teachers have approved a one-day walkout in protest over the lack of a master contract settlement for the 1977-78 school year.

Don Prediger, president of the Decatur Education Association (DEA), said members of the DEA voted 48-4 Thursday morning approving the walkout. He said Decatur has 64 teachers and 58 are DEA members.

No date for the walkout was set, but the teachers by a 51-1 vote approved giving its Crisis Coordinating Committee authorization to set the date.

Decatur teachers have been working without a contract this year. Their old two-year contract expired June 30. Prediger said there has been one state mediation session and the next negotiation meeting is scheduled for Thursday, Oct. 27.

"The teachers do not feel that contract talks have progressed satisfactorily or that the school board really wants to settle the contract," Prediger said in a prepared release.

There Goes His Neighborhood

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farmer Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller's old neighbors say a planned development of $300,000 homes on his estate here will depress neighborhood property values.

Their homes are in the half-million dollar range.

If all goes as planned, the construction of up to 130 houses will start in about 90 days. A large development company has a $5.5 million contract to buy the 25-acre estate and turn its rolling hills and gardens into lots of about one-fifth acre.

House Would Spare 'Red Squad' Files

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Bowing to criticism, the House has changed its mind and decided people should have a chance to look at files the state police "Red Squad" kept on them.

The House ruled Thursday to amend its earlier amendment to a bill repealing a series of laws that gave state police the power to spy on suspected Communists and subversives.

The seven laws — six of them enacted in the 1950s — set up the so-called "Red Squad" with power to monitor persons suspected of subverting the government. Ingham County Circuit Judge Thomas Brown last year ordered the squad disbanded, but court challenges in the files and their contents linger on.

The repeal bill, which was sent to the Senate, contained a hotly contested amendment requiring destruction of all files kept by the Red Squad within 30 days after the bill becomes law. But criticism that such an amendment was an obstruction of justice prompted the House action Thursday. Under House rules, the chamber can vote to reconsider its actions.

The new amendment would prohibit the destruction of any files that are the subject of court controversy or are under subpoena.

Several lawmakers and civil liberty advocates had argued that the original amendment would deprive people of the right to examine the files which were compiled on them.

Several of the laws the House wants to repeal already have been unconstitutional by state or federal courts.

More than 200 persons have asked for the right to examine their files.

The state police unit kept files on an estimated 40,000 politicians, attorneys, professors, reporters, union members, students and others, as well as some 400 organizations.

Information collected was given to the governor's office when state appointments were under consideration. Data on radical groups also were given in utilities and other companies.

Wives Of Congressmen Testify On Cash Offers

By JIM ADAMS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The wives of two congressmen say the wife of a former South Korean ambassador tried to give them envelopes stuffed with cash during a congressional trip to Korea in 1975.

But other congressmen on that trip say the best offers they got were tailored suits and gambling chips.

House ethics committee hearings on alleged South Korean influence buying also produced hearsay testimony Thursday that South Korean President Park Chung Hee knew in advance of a $20,000 offer to a congressman by another Korean ambassador.

But former Korean intelligence agent Kim Sang Keun stressed to the committee he had only been told about President Park's knowledge and that he did not himself know it to be true.

The former agent said Washington-area businessman Hanchi C. Kim, who ran a $600,000 operation financed by the Korean Central Intelligence Agency, told him the $20,000 offer was made by former Ambassador Hahn H.E. Pyong Choon to an unnamed congressman.

The wives of Reps. E. de la Garza, D-Tex., and John T. Myers, R-Ind., testified that Mrs. Kim Dong Ju, wife of a former South Korean ambassador in Washington, tried to give them the cash-stuffed envelopes during midnight visits to their hotel rooms.

Both women said they and their husbands made Mrs. Kim and her husband take the money back.

Other witnesses testified Wednesday that former Ambassador Kim himself delivered envelopes full of $100 bills to congressmen's offices in 1972 and 1973.

But seven other congressmen who were on the trip to Seoul, most of them with their wives, said themselves or through aides that they received no such offers.

Rep. Norman Mineta, D-Calif., recounted the story he has told before that a hotel gave him "800 to 900" worth of free gambling chips.

Rep. Paul Simon, D-Ill., said he refused an offer of a tailored suit. An aide said two suits were delivered to Rep. Herman Badillo, D-N.Y., in Washington after the trip, but that Badillo refused to accept them.

The ethics committee's rule against naming congressmen during this first round of hearings was accidentally broken by a witness who named former Rep. Otto E. Passman, D-La., as getting an envelope from Korean rice dealer Tomisin Park.

"No one ever gave me an envelope containing money," Passman has said.

S. African Leader Snubs U.S. Protest

By MAUREEN JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer
JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Prime Minister John Vorster says he is more interested in the security of South Africa than in the views of the United States toward his government's latest crackdown on organizations and individuals opposed to apartheid.

In his first public statement since the mass arrests and burnings of black organizations and newspapers, Vorster told a group of cheering supporters Thursday that statements by the U.S. State Department were "irrelevant."

"The Carter administration has for 10 months now been trying to make policy for us," the prime minister said. "He said a State Department announcement that the crack-down could harm relations between the United States and South Africa 'is none of my business.'"

"I am not interested. As far as I am concerned it is totally irrelevant..."

"You want a government which looks at the safety of South Africa."

The government on Wednesday outlawed virtually all important black groups, shut down the two leading black newspapers, detained more than 50 prominent blacks and imposed restriction orders on seven white critics of apartheid, this country's system of racial separation.

Sources at the United Nations said a Security Council meeting on South Africa may be held Monday or Tuesday. The 40-nation African Group has asked the council to urgently examine the "repressive measures" here.

The resumption of the debate on South Africa, which has been in recess since March, could confront the American U.N. ambassador, Andrew Young, with a new dilemma in U.S.-South African relations.

If the proposals finally put to a vote include tough, black African-sponsored international sanctions against South Africa, the United States would have to decide whether to use its veto, approve them or abstain.

One of the four pending resolutions believed in danger of a Western veto says South Africa "is in a state of war against the United Nations." Another would have the council order all countries to stop supplying arms to South Africa.

A position and a promise

A new phosphate regulation went into effect in the State of Michigan on October 1. The demands it makes upon the producers of laundry products can adversely affect the results you get when you do your laundry. Amway believes you should have the facts, both technical and legal, behind this new regulation so that you can make your own judgment concerning the position we have taken.

Our position

Amway Corporation's Commitment to Clean Water Has Not Changed Since 1959, Our First Year. Amway was one of the first companies to nationally market laundry detergents with biodegradable surfactants. Amway has always supported upgrading of sewage treatment at local, state, and national levels to achieve clean water.

Amway Corporation Has Consistently Opposed Regulation of Phosphates in Detergent Products as a "Solution to Water Pollution." There is no persuasive evidence that limiting or removing phosphates from detergents has or will contribute measurably to the improvement of water quality.

Improved Water Quality in Michigan Will Occur Only After Sewage Treatment Standards Now Required by Law Have Been Met. The volume of phosphates, other nutrients, toxic metals, viruses, and bacteria can be reduced effectively only by proper sewage treatment. It is a combination of all of these things, not just detergent phosphates, which has caused water pollution.

State Authorities Are Ignoring the Real Problem. Phosphate removal is already required for all Michigan municipal sewage treatment plants. A number of plants are successfully removing phosphates. Others have ignored this requirement and are not equipped to meet required operating standards. As a result, present water treatment regulations are not always being met. We believe phosphate regulations divert public attention from these water treatment shortcomings.

Detergent Regulation Proposes a Benefit Which is Illusory. The public has been led to believe that such regulation solves pollution problems. It does not. Instead it diverts attention from proposals designed to improve sewage treatment. Because such improvements cost money, and because regulation of detergents apparently does not, politicians and bureaucrats are inclined to support "solutions" which are less costly to them politically. They point their fingers at detergents and avoid the root of the problem: inadequate sewage treatment.

The Michigan Natural Resources Commission Does Not Have Authority to Change the Phosphorus Content of Detergents. In 1972, the Michigan Legislature established an 8.7% phosphorus limitation in cleaning agents. No power was delegated to any agency to further restrict that level. The Water Resources Commission was delegated power of enforcement. Recognizing its limited authority, the WRC voted last year to refer the question of further phosphate limitation to the State Legislature. The Legislature chose not to act. However, the Natural Resources Commission did elect to act, and it is Amway's opinion that the NRC had no authority to do so. That is why Amway Corporation is a plaintiff in a suit challenging the legal right of the NRC to regulate the phosphate content of detergent products in Michigan.

Our promise

Your Independent Amway Distributor Will Continue to Furnish You, The Customer, with Products of Superior Performance. Amway distributors offer you a "tailored-to-your-needs" service — a complete laundry program, customer-tailored to local conditions. This type of service is beyond the capability of any supermarket.

Tailored to Your Needs. Amway distributors will test your water hardness, quiz you on the kind of family laundry you have, then recommend the most economical combination of Amway laundry products for you to achieve optimum results.

A Choice. Two fine no-phosphate laundry products are available in two sizes each. S-A-8™ No-Phosphate Laundry Compound is available in the handy 6-pound or economical 12-pound size. For customers who prefer liquid detergents, S-A-8 Liquid Laundry Detergent is available in both quart and economical gallon sizes. A separate Plunger-Dispenser is available for the gallon size. Both are superior phosphate-free products. Both contain more nonionic surfactants (proven to be one of the best oily and greasy soil removers available) than the leading laundry powders. Cup-for-cup, S-A-8 No-Phosphate Laundry Compound cleans better than other leading no-phosphate powders. Cup-for-cup, S-A-8 Liquid Laundry Detergent washes six times as many loads as other leading laundry powders. Both are concentrated for economy. Both are effective in cold, hot, or warm water, and both contain not one, but two brighteners.

You May Need Additives. Even under the best of conditions, additives are necessary to ensure the best possible laundry results. There are many different conditions under which people do their laundry. The hardness of the water, machine condition, the kinds of soil to be removed, the temperature of the water, the kind of fabric and the size of the washload can all play a part. That's why your independent Amway distributor offers a complete laundry program, tailored to your needs. That's also why Amway has a whole line of laundry products for any particular problem which may arise.

Build-up of Hard Water Mineral Deposits. With no-phosphate powders, hard water residues can cause clothes to become harsh and scratchy, colors to become dull. Residues can also accumulate on machine parts, eventually causing machine failure. To help prevent these problems, use Amway® Water Softening Compound or Smashing White® Laundry Booster. Amway® Hard Water Film Remover can be used to remove hard water build-up problems once they have occurred.

Stain Removal. Although the day-to-day laundry may be satisfactory, the problem of difficult-to-remove stains may increase. Your Amway distributor has an excellent group of products designed to help eliminate problem stains. Amway® Pre-Wash Laundry Spray, Smashing White® Laundry Booster, Amway® Dry Chlorine Bleach, and L.O.C.® Liquid Organic Cleaner can all be used. Base your decision on the Amway distributor's recommendation after discussing your preference for pre-treating or using detergent boosters right in the wash.

Poorer Overall Soil Removal. Should this tendency develop, the following Amway products will help overcome the problem: Amway® Water Softening Compound, Amway® Smashing White Laundry Booster, Amway® Dry Chlorine Bleach, or L.O.C.® Liquid Organic Cleaner.

Now, More than Ever, You Need the Kind of Service an Amway Distributor Can Offer. It is a total laundry program you can get nowhere else. With proper care and the appropriate products, you can achieve good performance in your laundering. But it takes the help of your Amway distributor. You will find a distributor near you listed in the white or yellow pages of your telephone directory. If not, call 800-632-9623, toll-free, and we'll put a distributor in touch with you. Do it today because now you know Amway's promise: To supply you with the very best laundry products that advancing technology can provide and the law will permit.

Record Corn Crop Harvested In SJ County

While most U.S. farmers are complaining of a surplus of corn, Roy Lynn Jr., of Schoolcraft, has a surplus that is going to send him to Hawaii. Lynn, 28, harvested a world's record 352.64 bushels an acre from 1.08 acres of rented land in nearby St. Joseph County. He's claiming a seed company's title as champion corn farmer this year and an accompanying prize of a trip to Hawaii.

USDA Plans To Regroup

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has announced plans to reorganize itself into a number of fewer, but larger, agencies, according to USDA Secretary Bob Bergland. The USDA plans will cut the number of agencies from 40 to 26, but still employ the same number of persons. A key aspect of the reorganization is to combine the functions of the Farmers Home Administration and the Rural Development Service to make a Farm and Rural Development Administration. This action will require Congressional approval, while all other changes can be made administratively.

Agencies not involved in the change will include the Forest Service, Soil Conservation Service, Food and Nutrition Service, Food Safety and Quality Service and the Rural Electrification Administration. Bergland said the move will increase the efficiency and responsiveness of the USDA, but will not reduce the department's budget.

Dairy Farmers To Vote On Milk Order

Dairy farmer cooperatives in Berrien, Cass, Branch and St. Joseph counties will be polled by the U.S. Department of Agriculture to finalize the incorporation of the four counties into the Indiana federal milk order.

The order will be expanded to include the Michigan counties if the required two-thirds of the affected dairy farmers approve. The extension was proposed by McDonald Dairy, which operates a milk distributing plant in Benton Harbor. Once added to the Indiana order, McDonald Dairy would avoid possible month-to-month changes in regulation and payment, which are determined by where the plant distributes the largest portion of its milk.

Farmers Fading

The U.S. farm population dropped 600,000 from 1975 to 1976, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture. It now stands at 8.3 million people, about 15 per cent below the 1970 level.

The West has contradicted the national trend in farm population with an increase of 50,000 farm residents since 1970. The South was the greatest loser in 1976, and has lost about one-fourth of its farm population since 1970. About one person out of every 25, 3.9 per cent of the U.S. population, had a farm residence in 1976. When the number of U.S. farm residence reached its peak in 1916, about one person in three lived on a farm.

RECORD CORN PRODUCER: Roy Lynn Jr., of Schoolcraft, recently set world record for corn production on rented parcel of land in St. Joseph County. Yield was 352.64 bushels per acre, surpassing old record by more than 14 bushels. Lynn said land was heavily irrigated with nitrogen added to irrigation water.

acres from the 169 acres surrounding his record crop. At $2 a bushel, the price he expects to receive, his corn will bring $704 from the top acre and $81,120 from the rest of the land. He has not yet counted his costs, and does not know what type of a profit he can expect. He added that he expects to lose money on 500 to 600 acres of unirrigated corn.

Rains May Bolster Michigan Hay Crop

"Cut alfalfa now if it is worth cutting" is the advice of Michigan State University crop scientist M.B. Tesar. Because of excellent rains, many fields surveyed this last week have made excellent regrowth in the last six to eight weeks. The regrowth of 1/2 to 1 1/2 tons of hay per acre have a value of $40 to $120 per acre.

ASAE Meeting

Over 1,500 engineers from across the United States and around the world are expected to attend the annual winter meeting of the American Society of Engineers (ASAE) at the Palmer House in Chicago, Ill., Dec. 13-16. The meeting will be highlighted by the presentation of over 400 technical papers and remarks by Dr. M. Rupert Cutler, assistant secretary of the USDA, and Dr. Clifford M. Hardin, former secretary of agriculture. Additional information is available from ASAE headquarters, 2900 Niles Road, St. Joseph.

Ag Safety Course Slated

Area farmers have until Tuesday, Oct. 25 to enroll their children 13 years old or over in the North County Tractor Operation and Machinery Safety Course held at Tractor Land Sales, Inc., in Eau Claire. The course will begin Thursday, Oct. 27 at 7 p.m. and will run for consecutive Thursdays through March, 1978, according to Hank Allen, Berrien County 4-H agent. Allen said the course will cover machinery repair and maintenance as well as operation.

Upon successful completion of the course, the students who are 14 and over will be awarded U.S. Department of Labor tractor and machinery operator permits. Under current law, youngsters below the age of 16 cannot be hired to operate farm equipment without this permit.

Scientists Meeting At MSU To Discuss PBB

Scientists from around the world will gather at Michigan State University's Kellogg Center Oct. 24 and 25 to present and discuss their findings on the effects of polybrominated biphenyl — PBB.

Gypsy Moths Continue To Plague Woodlands

Gypsy moth damage in the U.S. this year is nearly double that of 1976, according to the USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS). Tree defoliation in eight northeastern states totalled 1.6 million acres in 1977, with Pennsylvania again bearing the brunt of the damage. Nearly 1.3 million wooded acres were reported damaged, mostly throughout forest ranges of the Pocono Mountains.

Officials at APHIS said that natural conditions promoted gypsy moth survival this year, and the pests have yet to reach their peak strength. They are believed to be moving in a southwesterly direction along the Appalachian Mountains. The first report of gypsy moths west of Pennsylvania came in 1954 when several were found near Lansing, Michigan. Since then, they have also been detected in Missouri and California. They are believed to be transported on trailers and other recreational vehicles travelling through infested areas.

Grade Fees Up

Fees for voluntary grading and inspection of processed fruits, vegetables and certain other products have been raised, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA), and contract inspection work has been increased seven percent. Inspection and grading services are administered by USDA's Food Safety and Quality Service and are made available upon request.

said that more than 350 people are expected to attend the conference. "There will be a great deal of discussion on both sides of the issue," Shull stated. "There are still many questions that have not been answered, and we hope the meeting can give scientists an idea of which direction to go with their research."

Shull said the two-day program will include a round table discussion on PBB and a poster presentation diagramming at least 40 studies on the chemical. The studies will deal with PBB's effect on cattle, pigs, chickens, mice, rats, rainbow trout, monkeys, farmers, consumers and the environment.

"It's amazing how much research has been done," Shull noted, "and how much remains to be done. We will be dealing with PBB from a strictly scientific viewpoint and hope to get down to the nitty-gritty on the questions that need to be answered."

Keynote speakers at the conference will include many of the prominent researchers of PBB, including former Berrien County resident Dr. Thomas Corbett. Various studies on PBB have been conducted since 1973 when the fire retardant was inadvertently mixed into farm feed and distributed across the state.

U.S. Panel Eyes Marijuana For Glaucoma

By CHRIS CONNELL
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A government panel will consider next month whether controls over marijuana should be loosened enough to allow its use as a prescription drug for some cancer and glaucoma patients.

The Controlled Substances Advisory Committee will consider on Nov. 18 whether marijuana should be moved from the drug class which includes heroin and LSD into the class which includes such drugs as cocaine and morphine. The change would allow physicians to prescribe marijuana.

Researchers are now studying marijuana's reported ability to relieve the eye pressure which accompanies glaucoma or the nausea suffered by persons undergoing cancer chemotherapy, and federal experts say some results have been promising.

But experts emphasize the evidence is not conclusive and that no one claims marijuana will cure anything.

"It's just a palliative," said Dr. Robert C. Petersen, an associate director in the research division of the National Institute on Drug Abuse. "It by no means could be regarded as a medical miracle drug."

A palliative eases a disease without curing it.

As a Schedule I drug, marijuana cannot be prescribed as a medicine except in federally sanctioned research programs. In its proposed Schedule II classification, it still would be considered to have a high potential for abuse, but be available for doctors.

Rescheduling marijuana would not make the drug any more readily available for persons who use it recreationally.

But the lawyer for the National Organization for the Reform of Marijuana Laws, which filed the original request to change marijuana's classification in 1972, says the switch would have an impact on society's general attitude toward the substance.

"It would reinforce the message that marijuana is not as dangerous as heroin," said lawyer Peter Meyers, whose organization favors laws decriminalizing marijuana.

The organization waged a long court battle against the government to force it to consider rescheduling marijuana.

The Justice Department opposed any reclassification, but a federal appeals court ruled in April that the department's drug agency had to let the secretary of health, education and welfare decide whether marijuana has medical value.

Joining in the organization's request are Robert Randall, 29, a Washington glaucoma sufferer.

Major low tar brands tested!

Real's natural taste beats all leading low tar brands in national taste test*

(Only 9 mg. tar.)

The Natural Cigarette.

All major brands enhance their flavor artificially. Only Real gives you all natural taste because Real uses only the finest tobacco blend to which nothing artificial has been added. Nothing.

You get great satisfying taste. And all of it is natural. All of it.

Now enjoy the cigarette that says it tastes best—and proves it. Low tar Real, the natural cigarette. Only 9 mg. tar.

*The National Test.

Regular king-size filter smokers—both full-flavor and low tar smokers—tested Real Filter and major non-menthol low tar brands. Each person smoked one low tar brand on an unidentified basis and rated it. Real Filter was rated higher overall than every low tar brand tested. It was rated higher on taste, satisfaction, natural taste and rich flavor. Yet Real has only 9 mg. tar.

The natural cigarette. Nothing artificial added.

Coloma Police Veteran Quits;

COLOMA — Edward Dill, seven-year veteran of the Coloma Police Department, Thursday night submitted his resignation to the city commission's police committee effective Monday.

EDWARD DILL
Resigns police post

Monday, Oct. 24.

The resignation must be accepted by the city commission during its meeting Monday evening to be official.

In Dill's letter of resignation, he said he felt the department has reached a point where no one can feel reasonably sure of any job security.

As an example, Dill in the letter said William Weybright, chairman of the commission's police committee, told Chief Kenneth Unruh recently he should think about getting another job because he was near 50 years of age. Dill is 51.

According to the letter, during the last 18 months Dill said he felt he had been subjected to some extremely unjust working conditions because of actions by Weybright.

Dill said he has accepted another position outside the police field and will begin work Monday.

Both Commissioner Weybright and Coloma Mayor Glenn Randall praised Dill for his work and regretted his leaving the police force.

Weybright said, "We've had our disagreements in the past, but they were for the good of the force and helpful for the department in order to make it run smoothly."

"You (Dill) have improved 125 per cent over the past years," added Weybright.

In a related area, an recommendation of Chief Unruh, the police committee agreed to recommend to the full commission that Jack Page be hired part-time to work Dill's shift until further notice.

Page, elected Coloma Township clerk in November, 1976, was the police chief from 1969 to 1974. Before organizing and heading the township police force, Page was a Berrien county sheriff's deputy.

In other areas, Chief Unruh announced the police department will sell a 1971 four-door car to the highest bidder on Saturday, Oct. 29, at 10:30 a.m. at the city garage. The car was seized in a drug-related arrest involving suspected cocaine 2½ years ago by city police.

Hijacker Decides On Death For Self

and two parachutes in addition to freedom for Stewart.

"We had not given in to any of his demands for guns, parachutes or money," Dunn said.

Hannan released the stewardesses just before dark.

Then Stewart, who was brought to the airport by the FBI, joined the forces asking him to surrender.

"Please release the hostages," Stewart told Hannan over the radio. If Hannan held out, his friend told him, "it's just going to be a bloody thing."

When Thompson told him over the radio, "There's really nothing we can do at the airport; we have got to do it in court," Hannan replied, "All right."

More anxious moments passed, then he lowered the jet's landing stairs, let the passengers off and allowed Thompson aboard.

Half an hour after that, authorities said, he shot himself. Officers scrambled on board, but the drama was over.

Most of the 11 passengers freed in Atlanta flew homeward early today after voting not to hold a news conference to talk about their ordeal.

"They all look and feel in good shape; they're obviously glad to get out," Dunn said.

Hannan's parents remained secluded in Atlanta.

Stewart, 29, of Mobile, was returned to jail.

Members of the Atlanta Police Department's Special Weapons And Tactics unit were sent to the airport, but until the final moments no armed officers approached the plane, which was parked at a remote runway apron near a cargo depot.

FBI negotiators had stalled Hannan through the afternoon and early evening, telling him that "red tape" hindered the release of Stewart.

Hannan set a 5 p.m. deadline, but did not say what would happen if his demands were not met by then.

Nothing did, but Dunn said the hijacker had clearly implied "that he was ready to kill the hostages."

The hostage passengers said Hannan never directly threatened them, Dunn added.

Three Oaks Waterworks Debt Cut

THREE OAKS — The Three Oaks Village Council in special session Thursday night approved reducing the indebtedness of the village waterworks in order to meet a requirement for obtaining a federal loan.

A reduction in the indebtedness is required in order for the village to obtain a Farmers Home Administration loan to pay for a new 200,000-gallon water tower, plus other improvements to the water system.

Total cost of the proposed project has been estimated at $414,000.

The council approved reducing its current indebtedness by $11,000 from $102,000 to $91,000. The bond payments in the amounts of $5,000 and $6,000 would have been due in March, 1978, and March, 1979, respectively. The two payments will go to George Grosse, Sr., from whom the waterworks was purchased in 1969.

In other areas, the council accepted a strip of land from Birney Crosby, through his farm property at the southwest edge of the village. A new water main will be installed through the strip to the new water tower.

House Okays Hike Of Minimum Wage

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill giving nearly five million workers faster pay checks the first of the year is now awaiting President Carter's signature. The President is expected to sign the bill, which won final congressional approval Thursday in a House vote of 234 to 187. The bill provides gradual increases over the next four years. The first takes effect Jan. 1, pushing the minimum from the present $2.30 an hour to $2.65.

Republicans argued the increases would be inflationary and put thousands of persons out of work. But Democrats said they would help bring lowpaid workers a living wage, although it still is not above the poverty line for a family of four.

After the initial increase on Jan. 1, the minimum goes to $2.90 an hour on Jan. 1, 1979, and to $3.10 on Jan. 1, 1980, before reaching $3.45 on Jan. 1, 1981.

The bill also would exempt most small businesses from paying the minimum wage.

Now, businesses with gross sales of $250,000 or less each year are exempt. The bill would raise the exemption for retail and service firms to $275,000 on July 1, 1978; to $325,000 by July 1, 1980, and to $362,500 by Dec. 31, 1981.

Organized labor was unable to get rid of a provision allowing employers to pay tipped workers such as bartenders or waitresses only a percentage of the minimum wage. The practice is based on the assumption that tips make up the difference.

But labor forces got the tip credit lowered, from 50 per cent at present to 45 per cent on Jan. 1, 1979, and to 40 per cent on Jan. 1, 1980.

Restaurants had argued they would be wiped out if they had to pay the full minimum wage to their employees. Restaurant unions said this was scare talk and that the tip credit victimized most waiters and waitresses.

The bill, called "absolutely the best minimum wage package we ever got," by one AFL-CIO spokesman, is the first major triumph for organized labor during the Carter administration and came after an unexpected battle with the President.

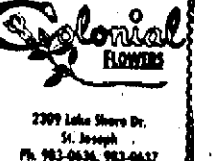

Organized labor had anticipated an easy time of the minimum wage increase, a bread-and-butter issue which they had understood Carter would endorse easily.

Instead, Carter proposed only a 20-cent increase in the minimum to $2.50 an hour, far short of labor's goal of $3 an hour.

He endorsed the unions' goal of automatic future raises by tying the minimum to a percentage of manufacturing workers' wages. But Carter supported a 50 per cent level, well below the 60 per cent rate advocated by the AFL-CIO.

Months later, Carter agreed to a compromise of a three-year increase beginning at $2.65 an hour, with future increases automatically set at 53 per cent of the factory workers' wages.

Dowagiac Man Hit-Run Victim

DOWAGIAC — Danny Stoops, 20, rural Dowagiac, was killed early today in a hit-and-run accident about a mile from his home.

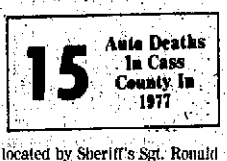

According to Dowagiac city police, Cass County Sheriff's officers located a vehicle believed to have been involved about an hour after the incident and about a mile from the scene.

The accident occurred shortly before 7 a.m. on West Prairie Road, Street at Elm Street, near the Dowagiac National Guard Armory.

Initial investigation, police said, indicated that Stoops was either riding his motorcycle or pushing it along the side of the street.

The suspect vehicle was located by Sheriff's Sgt. Ronald Cruzan and Deputy John Wolfe in the parking lot of the Sundstrand Corp., on Louise Avenue, police reported.

Police were attempting to locate the owner or driver of the vehicle which showed damage to the right front.

Stoops' sister, Susan, was selected Dowagiac High School Homecoming queen last month. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Stoops, route 5, Middle Crossing Road, Dowagiac.

It was the 15th traffic fatality recorded on Cass County roads this year, one more than in all of 1976. Last year at this time the county had recorded 11 traffic fatalities.

Funeral arrangements were incomplete today at the Groner Funeral Home, Dowagiac.

Licenses

The following marriage licenses have been issued by Berrien County Clerk Forrest H. Kesterke:

Curtis L. Taylor, 41, and Ella Louise Sims, 29, both of Benton Harbor.

David Paul Bammann, 22, Bridgman, and Antoinette Paula DiPisa, 19, St. Joseph.

Kenneth Robert Turney, 28, and Donna Jean Hartley, 10, both of Benton Harbor.

Carl Frederick Mathiak, 11, 23, Paw Paw, and Janet Louise Kios, 21, St. Joseph.

Thomas Michael Fritz, 25, and Barbara Jo Zelmer, 23, both of Berrien Springs.

Joel Andrew Carlson, 27, Pope Air Force Base, North Carolina (formerly of Coloma), and Roxanna Jo Algood, 25, Durham, N.C. (formerly of Berrien Center).

Proposed Cass Budget Up Nearly $1.2 Million

CASSOPOLIS — The Cass County Board of Commissioners Thursday night unveiled a proposed 1978 budget calling for revenues and expenditures of $3,472,814, an increase of nearly $1.2 million over the adopted 1977 budget of $2,283,189.

The board faced off criticism about the increase from a former county board member by saying the proposed budget is a more accurate one than the 1977 budget, which underestimated the amount of revenue the county would get.

Board Chairman Herman Saitz said that the 1978 budget actually reflects a four percent increase in expenses.

Saitz, and Commissioner Donald Foust of Edwardsburg, said that unanticipated money to be left over from the 1977 budget, and a nine percent increase in property values, account in the major part for the $1.2 million jump the county will have for its use next year.

The explanations came after Marjorie Pedrowski, a former board member from Vandalla, termed the 1978 budget a 31 percent increase over the 1977 budget, called the projected increase in revenue the county will have available "exorbitant" and called for a reduction in the property tax levy the board uses to run county government.

The allocated property tax the county gets for its operations is frozen at a maximum 3.75 mills. It can levy no more but can levy less than the maximum.

The proposed budget will come before the board for final changes, and adoption, at 7:30 p.m. meeting next Tuesday at the courthouse.

According to county board figures, property taxes for county operations in 1978 will bring in $1,641,235, compared to $1,478,519 that had been projected for 1977. The board also anticipates an $83,000 increase in the income tax revenue sharing it will receive ($230,000 in 1977) and a $30,000 increase from the register of deeds office (projected 1977 income from that office was $85,000).

Mrs. Pedrowski, in asking for a tax rollback, said the county will also have the benefit in 1978 of a projected $500,000 surplus left over after 1977.

She added that the county board had $410,537 left over after 1976.

The budget includes an eight percent salary increase for county department heads and elected officials and a five percent increase for other county employees.

In other areas Thursday night, the board criticized the work of the architectural firm that designed and supervised the $104,000 courthouse parking lot expansion and improvement construction.

The board told Duane Shafer, an architect for Snell Environmental Group of Indianapolis, Ind., that the lot is built on too steep of an incline, the blacktopping is poor and not sealed, trees purchased were never planted and there are curbs missing or poorly placed.

Shafer is to appear at the board's Tuesday meeting with the project's plans and go over alleged faults.

BUCHANAN — Girl and Boy Scout organizations in the Buchanan area will hold a uniform exchange here Saturday, Oct. 22. The exchange, in which uniforms can be traded or sold, will be held from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Buchanan High School lunch room.

Fun Festival Due Saturday

The Parent Advisory Organization of Benton Harbor Sterne Brunson Elementary School will present its annual fun festival from 5 to 8 p.m. Saturday, according to T.C. Wallace Jr., Sterne Brunson principal. Wallace said the festival is open to students, parents and community members and will feature a wide selection of games and activities. There is no charge for admission, he said.

$35,000 Addition Underway

COLOMA — Construction has started here on the estimated $35,000 addition to Elliott Equipment, Mountain Road, just south of Interstate 94. The 2,880 square foot addition will house an indoor showroom and offices for the firm that sells recreational equipment, parts and supplies and garden tractors and other farm and home tools and supplies. David Elliott, co-owner, said construction on the addition is expected to be completed by Nov. 30.

Golden Ager Center Opens

UNION PIER — Union Pier Community Services, 15993 Lakeshore Road, has opened a Senior Citizens Center at the Community Baptist Church. Meals are served at the noon hour every day. All senior citizens are eligible to participate. Meals are prepared by Berrien County Nutrition Services. The program director is Mrs. Gertrude Smith.

PCB Taint Cited In 2 Waterways

From ASSOCIATED PRESS
LANSING — Fish in the Kalamazoo River from Kalamazoo to Saugatuck and in Portage Creek are contaminated by toxic PCBs, according to the Department of Public Health.

Officials say people — particularly children, pregnant or nursing mothers or women hoping to bear children — should eat no more than half a pound of fish weekly from the tioned people not to eat fish taken from the river from near Howell to Owosso.

Tests on some pike, suckers and sunfish in the Shiawassee showed the highest concentrations of PCB found in any fish in the state. Some of the fish contained as much as 70 times the concentration federal law allows in food.

Thursday's warnings are the first official word from the state that the fish could be health hazards, although Department of Natural Resources officials say they discovered two years ago that PCB — polychlorinated biphenyl — had been spilled into the Shiawassee.

The toxic industrial chemical is known to cause illness in animals and is suspected as a cause of cancer and birth defects in humans.

The DNR said earlier this week that the chemical was discharged into the Shiawassee by the Cast Forge Co., an aluminum plating facility in Howell. The firm stopped spilling PCB into the river in 1973, the state says.

Routine tests in early 1975 discovered major contamination in the Shiawassee. Although fish samples were ordered taken from near the plant, no live fish were found and there was no follow-up.

DNR officials this week said they didn't know why no further samples were taken until this past August, or why residents were not warned before of the possible danger of eating contaminated fish.

river.
The Kalamazoo River and Portage Creek contamination is believed to have come from Kalamazoo area paper companies, state officials said.

Efforts are being made to clean up the pollution, and officials say PCB levels in the Kalamazoo River and Portage Creek are dropping.

But there's no such good news about the south branch of the Shiawassee River, where four years after a chemical firm stopped pouring PCBs in the water, fish still are unsafe to eat.

ADDITIONAL EXPANSION PLANNED: Expansion project at Snug Harbor marina, New Buffalo, will continue, according to Ronald Oselka of Oselka Enterprises, marina owners. Two new large docks (small arrows) have been put in since project started in late 1975. Oselka said he expects to put in from four to five additional docks in adjacent area (indicated by large arrow) over next five years. When complete, harbor will have slips for around 1,000 ships, making it one of largest in state. Total cost of project has been estimated at $1 million. Galien River is at top right and Lake Michigan and harbor entrance in top middle of photo. (Aerial photos by Adolph Hanna of Hartford)

State OKs Project At Berrien General

By AL AREND
Staff Writer

BERRIEN CENTER — Despite objections of four private Berrien County hospitals, the Michigan State Health Department has approved a request from Berrien General Hospital here to construct a new intensive care unit and remodel its acute care facility.

Total projected cost of the project has been pegged at $596,224.

In granting the certificate of need, Dr. Maurice S. Reisen, State Health Department director, in a letter to Sandra Bruce, Berrien General administrator, gave three reasons for approval.

— The proposed project is responsive to existing licensing deficiencies previously cited by the state.

— The proposed project is consistent with State Health Department criteria and guidelines.

— The proposed project was reviewed and supported by the Southwest Michigan Health Care Systems Agency in Kalamazoo, the area reviewing agency for federal grants for hospital construction.

Mrs. Bruce said the letter made no reference to objections voiced by four private Berrien County hospital boards to the proposed project.

The four private hospitals, Memorial in St. Joseph, Mercy in Benton Harbor, Pawating in Niles, and Community in Watervliet, last month filed a joint appeal asking the State Health Department to deny Berrien General permission to start work on the project. Medical staffs at Memorial, Pawating and Community, also voiced objections.

Administrators at the four hospitals contended that there already may be too many intensive care beds in this area and that not enough study was given to the proposal before it was approved by a regional health planning agency.

The certificate of need was granted by the state to construct a new six-bed intensive care unit which would replace Berrien General's present seven-bed intensive care unit. It also calls for construction of a corridor between the hospital's acute care ward and the new intensive care unit. Proposed remodeling in the ward would convert a four-bed ward to private and semi-private rooms plus the addition of two medical surgical beds.

The present intensive care unit would be remodeled into an enlarged respiratory care department and two patient rooms.

The hospital's total bed capacity would remain at 230, according to the letter.

Berrien General's next major hurdle is finding the funding needed to construct the project.

According to Otto Grau, chairman of the county administration committee of the county board which oversees buildings, funding would depend on the county getting an increase in federal revenue sharing or a U.S. Economic Development Administration grant.

The certificate of need granted by the state is good for one year.

BEACH FADING AGAIN: In a little over two years, most of some 200,000 cubic yards of sand pumped in August, 1975, from bottom of Lake Michigan at New Buffalo harbor as beach renourishment project has drifted away to south. Also, level of Lake Michigan is two feet lower now than in August, 1975, according to Army Corps of Engineers, Grand Haven office. Lake bottom sand was pumped, from northside of harbor's breakwaters to southside and extended several hundred yards out into lake back in August, 1975. Project was needed because breakwaters (top left) built to keep harbor entrance open also cause natural buildup of sand northside, while at same time, erosion of sand on southside. Harbor breakwaters and beach renourishment project were financed by federal, state and local funds as part of $2.5 million harbor project. Continued beach renourishment will be needed as sand continues to drift south.

UNIQUE BIRTHDAY PARTY: Gail K. McCarthy, 25, celebrated her birthday yesterday by being admitted to Michigan Bar by Berrien Circuit Judge William S. White. Miss McCarthy, a native of Chicago, will be staff attorney for Michigan Migrant Legal Assistance Project in Berrien Springs. She will be one of three attorneys in office who serve tri-county area. Miss McCarthy received her bachelor's degree from University of Illinois at Champaign, and law degree from University of Michigan. She worked last summer for Illinois Migrant Legal Services. Miss McCarthy resides at 3001 Lake Shore Drive, St. Joseph. (Staff photo)

Irish's Ranking, Bowl Hopes Hinge On Beating USC

SOUTH BEND — The annual showdown between Notre Dame and the University of Southern California is set for Saturday.

And Irish Coach Dan Devine might be using emotional tactics to get his team ready.

"They are the toughest team we've faced this year by a longshot," Devine says. "Last year's game burned into our guts a little bit. We did enough to win and didn't win. That's the kind of game you'll remember."

The two will collide before a sellout crowd of 50,073 at 1:30 p.m. (Michigan time) at Notre Dame Stadium. The game will begin 40 minutes earlier than the printed tickets list because the contest will be televised nationally on ABC.

USC will bring a 5-1 record into the game and the No. 5 ranking in the latest Associated Press poll. The Irish are 4-1 and ranked No. 11.

Present USC coach John Robinson has been to South Bend just once — as a Trojan assistant in 1973 when Notre Dame won 23-14 on the way to a national title. That was the last Irish win in the series. USC has won three in a row since and have taken six of the last seven.

Last year Notre Dame outgained the Trojans but lost 17-13. Devine is aware that this contest means more than just another victory in one of college football's great rivalries.

"We realize the importance of the rankings and bowl possibilities," Devine says. "We are trying to erase that from our minds. But we have to face up to the facts. If something good is going to happen to us, we have to do it ourselves. We can't wait for the others to do it for us."

Southern Cal has won only six of 20 games in Notre Dame

Stadium in the history of the series.

"What makes it so tough in South Bend," Robinson says, "is not the stadium or the atmosphere. It's the Notre Dame football players. They're pretty doggone good. Sure, they have a great atmosphere and super-enthusiastic following, but getting a chance to come in and play in that stadium shouldn't do anything but excite a visiting team."

One of the major problems for USC will be moving the ball against an Irish defense that has all 11 starters back from last year. Notre Dame's rushing defense is fourth in the nation and has not yielded a rushing touchdown all season.

"Notre Dame is a very aggressive defensive team," Robinson says. "They attack the line of scrimmage. Their players have always had great size and I think they particularly relish stopping the run. I think they're the toughest team to run against in the United States."

So far this season the Irish have limited their five opponents to a total of just 380 yards and a 2.0 yards per play average rushing.

Spearheading the Notre Dame defense are senior veterans Ross Browner (9-3, 247), an All-American and Outland Trophy winner last year, at defensive end; four-year starter Luther Bradley (8-2, 204), a cornerback with 14 career interceptions; three-year starter Willie Fry (6-3, 242) at defensive end; and junior linebacker Steve Heimkreiter (6-2, 228), who led the Irish in tackles last year with 118.

USC will attack this array of defenders with Rob Hertel handing the ball to a trio of tailbacks. Charles White leads with 609 yards (4.9 average), while Dwight Ford has 331

(7.2) and Lynn Cain totals 237 (6.2).

Hertel's favorite passing targets are All-American split end candidate Randy Simmrin and flanker Calvin Sweeney. Simmrin is tied for fourth on the all-time USC pass catching list with 82 receptions. He's already caught 23 passes this year for 523 yards and four touchdowns. Sweeney has pulled in 17 passes for another 223 yards and two scores.

Notre Dame will counter with tailback Jerome Heavens and tight end Ken MacAfee. Heavens' record 200-yard game last week against Army boosted him to 20th place in the NCAA statistics. Heavens is averaging 108 yards per game, well back of Terry Miller of Oklahoma State (149).

MacAfee is 10th in the nation with 25 catches for 311 yards and two TDs.

"It will take a supreme effort and some breaks to beat them," Devine says. "Alabama forced turnovers and scored a touchdown inside the 10-yard line. It's hard to drive on them from long distances, and we need a sustained effort to do it."

Alabama handed USC its only loss this season 21-20 two weeks ago.

U-M, Gophers Play For 'Jug'

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Which Michigan football team will be in action Saturday in a Big Ten game against the Minnesota Gophers?

Will it be the team which looked awesome in rolling past Illinois and two nationally rated teams, Wisconsin and Texas A & M, by a combined score of 134-12?

Or will it be the squad which struggled somewhat in downing Duke 21-9, Navy 14-7 and Michigan State 24-14?

The big scores against the Texas Aggies (41-3) and Wisconsin (56-0) have made the Wolverines of Coach Bo Schembechler the No. 1 ranked team in the country.

Gopher Coach Cal Stoll says the Wolverines do not have an apparent weakness. "They're an awfully, awfully good football team," said Stoll, who has never beaten Michigan in his six years at Minnesota.

"They're a great football team because they play with great intensity and they do it with great athletes," he said.

Stoll points to speedy running back Harlan Huckleby as one of the premier athletes. Huckleby, who sat out the Wisconsin game last week with an injury, returns to action with a per-game rushing total of 118 yards.

Junior quarterback Rich Leach, starting for the third straight year, has rushed for 298 yards and four touchdowns and has passed for 532 yards and six touchdowns.

Stoll has switched quarterbacks in the last two games and says the starter this week will not be named until the starting lineup is announced at game-time Saturday.

"It might be the only advantage I have. Bo won't know who I'll be starting at quarterback," said Stoll. Sophomore Wendell Avery started the first five games, but gave way to junior Marc Trestman who made his second collegiate start last Saturday when the Gophers slipped past winless Northwestern 13-7.

Despite a 4-2 season record and 1-2 in the Big Ten, the Gophers have scored only one touchdown in each of five games. Their big offensive outburst came in a 27-13 upset of nationally ranked UCLA.

Kicker Paul Rogind, who has kicked seven of seven extra points and nine of 11 field goals, has won three of the games with his kicking and is Minnesota's top scorer.

Rogind missed practice this week with a pulled hamstring and his availability will not be known until shortly before the 1:30 p.m. CDT kickoff.

It will be the 50th battle for the "Little Brown Jug," the piece of crockery left behind in Minneapolis by a famous Michigan team in 1909. The Wolverines lead in Jug series 36-19-2 and have not lost to Minnesota since 1967.

Cage Meeting Set Monday

There will be a meeting for the area church basketball league on Monday, Oct. 24, at St. Joseph Methodist church, starting at 7:30 p.m. The coaches from all teams in the three divisions — youth, junior high and high school — should attend. For further information, contact Sam Rizzo at 825-0235.

RELIEF ACE

From 1969 to 1992 pitcher Ed Roebuck of the Los Angeles Dodgers did not lose a game in 40 mound appearances. He won 12 in that time.

Jabbar Gets Record Fine

LOS ANGELES (AP) — No one looms larger — in or out of the lineup — than 7-foot-2½ Kareem Abdul-Jabbar of the Los Angeles Lakers.

The perennial most valuable player of the National Basketball Association will be out of action "approximately three weeks" because of a broken bone in his right hand.

Abdul-Jabbar was also fined a league-record $5,000 by NBA Commissioner Larry O'Brien Thursday for throwing a punch that broke the hand. The blow floored Milwaukee Bucks' rookie center Kent Benson Tuesday night.

Films showed the punch came after Benson had elbowed the Laker star in the midsection early in a game won by Milwaukee 117-112.

Jabbar was ejected and Benson missed the remainder of that game and another contest Wednesday night against Denver, suffering from what the Bucks called an apparent mild concussion and cuts near the eye.

O'Brien's statement indicated he might have imposed a sizable suspension as well on the player who has been league MVP a record-matching five times, including the last two years in succession. But it appears nine or more games Abdul-Jabbar loses due to the hand injury more than covers the sin involved.

The Laker record stands at 11 so far without Jabbar. His 7-foot replacement, James Edwards, a rookie from Washington, is expected to have difficulties when matched against established stars of the NBA.

Dr. Herbert Stark, a Los Angeles orthopedic surgeon, examined Abdul-Jabbar's injury Thursday. Dr. Robert Kerlan, team physician, said Abdul-Jabbar would have to wear a cast on his right hand for three weeks.

The hand had swelled up twice normal size within 12 hours of the injury. The break, technically a fracture of the fourth metacarpal, was not as severe as first feared, the doctor's statement said.

Kerlan said that when Abdul-Jabbar does play again, he probably will wear a protective device while the healing process ends.

Abdul-Jabbar had not missed a game since the end of the 1974-75 season. Neither Abdul-Jabbar nor any Laker officials would comment on the fine.

RED ARROW CHAMP: Watervliet's Tim Lynch heads for first place Thursday afternoon in Red Arrow Conference cross country meet: Lynch finished the three-mile race in 15:57 while leading his team to the championship.

Watervliet, Lynch Champions In CC

WATERVLIET — Tim Lynch led Watervliet to a repeat Red Arrow Conference cross country championship here Thursday afternoon.

Lynch took first in 15:57 as Watervliet edged out Hartford for the conference crown. It was the Panthers' fifth title in the eight years cross country has been a league sport.

Watervliet went undefeated in dual meets at 5-0 and finished up league action Thursday with 26 points. Hartford had 36. Berrien Springs 37, Lake Michigan Catholic 109, Eau Claire 146 and Galien 162. (The totals include two points for each dual meet loss.)

Finishing behind Lynch in the individual standings was Hartford's Russ Gibson in 16:17. "He's just a sophomore, so he did a real fine job," commented Watervliet Coach Gene Bednarowski. Rounding out the top 15 — who received all-conference honors — were Hartford's Dennis Frazier, Watervliet's Randy Bettich, Watervliet's Mark Kappel, Watervliet's Bruce Frazier, Hartford's Mike Bassett, Hartford's Steve Bucholz, Eau Claire's Brian Dohm, Watervliet's Bob Warsko, Berrien Springs' Brian Mohrhardt, Berrien Springs' Nick Fullbright, Watervliet's Gary Hurst, Hartford's Fred Bower and Watervliet's Tim Carter. "It was really a close team race right up to the last three-quarters of a mile, then we eked it out," declared Bednarowski.

"We expected Lynch to win the individual race. But I thought the outstanding runner in the race to help us win the title was Randy Bettich. He has never been No. 2 on my team before. And I thought Bob Warsko, who was 10th, ran the best race of his career."

Watervliet and Hartford will probably battle for the title again next year. Watervliet loses only Lynch, while Hartford will return its first four. Hartford's only loss in Red Arrow dual meets this season was to Watervliet, 25-30.

A total of 38 runners finished Thursday's three-mile race. Bridgman and New Buffalo didn't compete in the conference meet.

LMC Defeated!

Lake Michigan College's 14-game winning string came to an end Thursday as the Indians lost to Grand Rapids Junior College 15-4, 15-8 in girls volleyball.

Mary Hoff was high scorer with four while Deb Lundin had three for LMC, now 18-2. Hoff was top spiker with nine with Janet Hess, Karen Aalls and Pat Villwock all having three.

LMC returns to action Monday against Grand Valley and Spring Arbor at Grand Valley.

Beavers Blank Panthers, 12-0

WATERVLIET — Eau Claire turned in a solid defensive effort in stopping Watervliet 12-0 here Thursday in a Jaycee football game. Frank McCain intercepted two passes and Leon Clem, Jeff Rickelits and Dan Choene were stalwarts on defense for the Beavers.

Mike Newman scored on a 45-yard quarterback sneak and at-so hit Curtis Bolton on a 20-yard pass for Eau Claire. Both came in the last period.

EARN LETTERS

Heavyweight Ken Norton earned 10 varsity letters in high school in Jacksonville, Ill. He competed in baseball, football, track and basketball. Boxing came later.

Benched Namath Not Quitting

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent

The City of the Angels was burning with World Series fever, but across town at a fashionable Beverly Hills hotel one could cut the quietude with a rusty hacksaw.

The Los Angeles Rams, as customary for all home games, had checked in for a night of meditation before facing the New Orleans Saints at the Coliseum.

"Pardon me," a visiting newsman said, "could you tell me if Joe Namath has registered yet?"

"Yes," the clerk replied stonily. "There he is, over there, catching the elevator."

Sure enough, there stood a man in blue jeans, shoulders hunched, long black hair curling around his neck.

He was alone. No Hollywood starlets lunging on his arms. No Good Time Johannes in tuxedos and black ties kicking up a storm. No line of kids queuing up for autographs.

"Come on up," Namath said politely. He had a chew of tobacco in his mouth.

Upstairs, Joe threw his jacket across a chair, picked up the telephone and asked for room service.

"Two bottles of white wine," he said. He used to order Scotch.

"Tell me," the visitor inquired, "are you happy?"

There might have been a time when Namath would have stiffened at such a question and blurted an epithet.

"Moderately," he said with a thin smile.

This isn't the best of times for Joe Namath, pro football's passing legend who put the numeral "12" on the jersey of every aspiring quarterback.

A $275,000 a year commodity with the New York

Jets, he carried a princely price tag and a ton of pressure when he went to the Rams. Unable to move the Los Angeles team above a 500 percentage (2-2 in the first four games), he found himself benched, replaced by 24-year-old Pat Haden.

"I was really down in the dumps at first," Namath said. "Then two things happened. I saw the sun come up and I said to myself: 'The world's not coming to an end because of a damn football game.' Then the telephone rang. It was Ed Marinaro. He had seen the Monday night game against the Bears in Chicago — a miserable game for us. He was calling to try to console me."

"What an irony that was. Here was Marinaro, the poor guy had just been released by the Jets. He didn't have a job. He didn't know where he might go next."

"And here I was. I still had my job. No worry about money. No worry about anything. And he's calling to try to build up my spirits. It was really something."

Namath said he had quit reading newspaper headlines years ago but he knew what to anticipate: "Benched Namath Plans to Quit. Go Into Movie Career."

"No way," the 34-year-old University of Alabama product said firmly. "I agreed to this deal. I am going to stick it out. This is a good team. The Rams are going to be in the playoffs. I think I can be of help."

Namath was discouraged over the result of the Bears' game on national television Oct. 10, won by the Bears 24-23 — a game in which he threw 40 passes, completed 16, had four intercepted and took a physical beating that left both of his fragile knees badly swollen and bruised.

Game movies show it was not all Namath's fault. Missed assignments contributed. But Namath was the scapegoat. He was benched.

Immediately speculation was rife: this would be too much for Broadway Joe's pride. He is sure to quit. Back to the movies, Joe.

Forget it. They don't know Joe Namath.

When he went to the Rams, Namath by his football reputation on the line. He took an apartment in Long Beach. Instead of Beverly Hills. He disdained the Hollywood set. He told his manager, Jimmy Walsh, to spurn all movie and TV commitments. He launched a rigorous physical conditioning program. He made football his life.

"I am in the best shape I've been in in years," he said. "I can still play. When Coach (Chuck) Knox gives the signal, I'll be ready."

Season Strengthened My Character--Reggie

NEW YORK (AP) — Before Reggie Jackson slammed his third homer in the eighth inning of the final World Series game Tuesday night, he held up three fingers to the fans. Was he predicting his third homer, like the immortal Babe Ruth once did?

"No, I was just telling the fans 'three outs to go,' said Jackson.

Well, so much for legends. Actually, there is no need to inflate the truth when it comes to Reggie Jackson. Reality is strange enough.

Much of the "Babe Ruth Story," starring William Bendis, is apocryphal. But when the time comes to film "The Reggie Jackson Story," there will be enough reality to keep the cameras rolling for a long time.

The action undoubtedly will go heavy on 1977, the year the New York Yankees almost drove Jackson crazy before Reggie drove them to baseball's championship.

"This year isn't a baseball story to me," Jackson said Thursday when he received a copy from Sport Magazine as the World Series' Most Valuable Player.

He gave the car to his sister, Tina Jones of Baltimore. Half his Series share, he said, would be channeled into charities in New York, Arizona and Oakland.

Autry Takes Control Of His Angels

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — Gene Autry is taking over personal control of his California Angels by moving in as president and bringing in former San Diego Padres president Buzzie Bavasi as his No. 2 man.

Arthur Patterson, the Angels' president the past three years, will remain with the American League baseball club in a public relations capacity. Harry Dalton will remain as general manager but will relinquish his duties as executive vice president to Bavasi.

— where he has his home. And his World Series ring would be made into a trophy "because of what the season means to me."

"This season strengthened my character. It humbled my personality," said Jackson. "I wouldn't wish it on anybody. As a person, I'm glad I did it. And as a ballplayer, I'm glad I did it. But I wouldn't wish it on anybody."

For much of the season Jackson was an outcast on the Yankees, at odds with his teammates and his manager, Billy Martin.

Like most movies, "The Reggie Jackson Story" would have a message, one culled from a year spent in exile in New York. "I'd rather be thought of as a man than a ballplayer," Jackson said. "I would rather my accomplishments be interpreted humanistically."

Gropp Paces Berrien Win

BERRIEN SPRINGS — Mike Gropp scored on runs of 2 and 1 yards to power Berrien Springs to a 22-6 win over Lake Michigan Catholic here Thursday in junior varsity football. The Shamrocks are now 7-0.

John Barse talked on a run of 4 yards. Mark Boswell hit Barse and Joe Lelocky with PAT passes. Dan McQuillan scored the Lakers' TD on a 66-yard punt.

TENNIS

SYDNEY, Australia — Jimmy Connors took only 58 minutes to thrash Australian Tony Roche 6-2, 6-0, advancing to the semifinals of the Australian Indoor Tennis Championships.

Connors will meet Nick Saviano, who earlier defeated Colin Dibley 7-5, 6-7, 6-3. In doubles, Australians Ross Case and Geoff Masters defeated the American pair of Vilas Gerulaitis and Bill Scanlon 6-4, 5-7, 6-4.

SAO PAULO, Brazil — Betsy Nagelsen of the United States beat Australian Helen Galloway 4-6, 6-0, 7-5 to gain the quarterfinals of a $100,000 women's international tennis tournament here.

Australian Kerry Held won her match when Terry Holladay of the United States defaulted after the first set, which Mrs. Held won 6-1. Miss Holladay said she was feeling too ill to continue.

In other matches, Horac Casals of the United States beat American Pam Teeguarden 7-6, 7-5. Billie Jean King beat Czech Renata Tomianova 6-2, 6-0 and Betty Stove of Holland beat Brazilian Maria Bueno 6-3, 6-0.

BARCELONA, Spain — Top-seeded Bjorn Borg of Sweden beat Victor Pecci 6-2, 6-3 and advanced to the quarterfinals of the international Conde de Godo Tennis Tournament.

In other matches, Manuel Orantes, Spain, beat countryman Rafael Vizecaino 6-1, 6-0; Wittek Fibak, Poland, beat Uli Pinner, West Germany, 6-2, 3-6, 7-5; Balazs Tarozzy, Hungary, ousted Orlando Piccola, Italy, 6-1, 6-2; Jose Higueras, Spain, got past Frew McMillan, South Africa, 6-4, 6-2; Eddie Dibbs, United States, beat Roger Toulan, France, 6-2, 6-2, and Jan Kodess, Czechoslovakia, eliminated Paolo Bertolucci, Italy, 6-2, 6-3.

TORQUAY, England — The United States made a brilliant start in the Maureen Connolly Trophy Under-21 Tennis International Tournament Thursday. The Americans jumped to a 4-0 lead after taking the opening three singles matches and the doubles from a strong British team which included their fourth-ranked senior player, Michele Tyler.

The U.S. singles winners were Barbara Hallquist, 20, from Arcadia, Calif., and 18-year-old Stacy Margolin of Los Angeles and Mary Carillo, 20, of New York.

STEREO EQUIPMENT SEIZED: Stevensville Patrolman David Schoff (left) and Chief Martin Watson inventory $1,423 worth of stereo components they said was seized in arrests of two young Shoreham men. Police said stereo equipment allegedly was stolen from Tri-County Audio in Stevensville on Oct. 3, and arrests were made after police received tip. Seized were turntables, cassette tape decks, amplifier, receivers, and 400 cassette tapes. Arrested on charges of receiving and concealing stolen property valued at more than $100 were Karl Hess, 18, of 2367 Shoreham Drive, and Conrad Schultz, 17, of 2310 Shoreham. Watson said youths were placed in county's deferred prosecution program, meaning they will not be prosecuted if they successfully complete program of counseling and restitution. (Staff photo)

Van Buren's New Budget Up Almost Half Million

PAW PAW — A 1978 budget of $3,702,137, a $496,484 increase over this year's anticipated expenditures, was unveiled Thursday by the finance committee of the Van Buren County Board of Commissioners during a public hearing.

The budget, which includes some $90,000 in pay hikes for 120 county employees approved earlier this month, is slated to go before the full board for consideration Nov. 8.

It is based on projected revenues of $3,741,072, with the $42,935 which exceeds anticipated expenses scheduled to go into a contingency fund.

Commissioner Edwin Twitchell noted that at least part of that contingency fund will be needed when a contract with Sheriff's deputies expires next July.

As usual, the largest single item in the budget, $537,713, is slated for the sheriff's department.

The second largest appropriation, $282,775, is budgeted for the health department, although its actual budget will be $167,035.

Finance Chairman Gerald Rendel explained that a number of departments will have their budgets supplemented from the county's estimated $120,000 share of 1978 federal anti-recession funds. Accordingly, Rendel said, the totals shown in the general budget do not reflect all that is being set aside for some departments.

Scheduled for extra amounts not shown in the budget are: Youth Services Bureau, $15,000; library, $12,000; Health Department, $84,280; Commission on Aging, $3,500; and marine fund, $5,240.

The anti-recession budget will be reviewed at a hearing scheduled for Nov. 1.

Anticipated revenues include: property taxes, $1,855,912; millage for ambulance service, $141,403; estimated state income tax returns, $375,000; fees and other revenues, $805,810; business activity tax (county share), $116,491; business activity tax (ambulance), $8,874; proceeds from cooperative reimbursement program, $49,233; reimbursement for CETA employees, $196,217; and a budget carryover from last year expected to be about $200,000.

Victor Andersson, health department business manager, said the $84,280 increase in his budget is primarily for more staff, including several nurses and an accountant.

The Department of Social Services budget was dropped to $87,500 from $105,000. Director Charles Higgins said that reflects both a general stabilization of the economy and increased state participation in general assistance programs.

Following is a list of budgeted expenditures, with last year's figure in parentheses: Board of Commissioners, $71,950 ($55,660); Circuit Court, $114,181 ($105,332); Circuit Court reporter, $54,462 ($44,787); District Court (Paw Paw), $136,421 ($129,521); District Court (South Haven), $131,870 ($119,784); Friend of the Court, $107,321 ($102,274); Juvenile Court, $119,240 ($104,974); Probate Court, $82,746 ($78,780); Jury commission, $4,500 (same); juvenile shelter, $3,000 (same); and probation office, $22,629 ($11,390).

County clerk, $109,331 ($79,351); treasurer, $80,829 ($85,836); Register of Deeds, $80,642 ($58,425); prosecuting attorney, $117,543 ($103,560); records and printing, $31,327 ($22,285); sheriff, $537,713 ($493,035); ambulance, $150,278 ($120,270); and equalization department, $96,551, which reflects 10 CETA employees used for work on assessment cards. LAWRENCE — A proposal by the finance committee of the Van Buren County Board of Commissioners would earmark $125,930 of county federal revenue sharing money to partially compensate townships for costs incurred in snow removal last winter.

The proposal, introduced at a meeting of about 30 county, township, and Van Buren Road Commission officials here Thursday, is scheduled to come before the full county board for a vote at its Nov. 8 meeting.

The $125,930 figure represents half the $251,860 cost of snow removal charged to the county's townships. Finance Committee chairman Gerald Rendel said the money would be transferred from county federal revenue sharing funds to the Road Commission, which would then apply it to the township's accounts for road maintenance.

If the appropriation is approved, it would wipe out most of a total of $141,100 previously requested by the Road Commission from townships to meet road maintenance costs for the rest of the year. The $141,100, prorated over the 18 townships, had been requested because the snow removal costs had caused the money allocated for

$251,860
Owed For Snow
Removal

maintenance to run out in townships this month.

Rendel said the county is able to take the donation because it has received a $277,000 public works grant for an addition to the county social services building. Prior to the awarding of the grant, the county commission had expected to have to pay the $800,000 cost of the building entirely from revenue sharing funds.

While several township supervisors expressed gratitude to the county for the money, others felt it would come nowhere near to solving their long-term road problems.

"This is a shot in the arm, but it's not going to cure the flu," said Bangor Township Trustee Jay Eiting.

South Haven Township Supervisor James Schinke criticized the Road Commission for spending so much on snow removal that there was nothing left for road maintenance this fall.

"The little money the commissioners are giving us is just peanuts," he said.

"This will help for a little bit, but not for very long," Schinke added. "We haven't had anything done on our roads in so long it's pitiful."

The remarks drew an angry response from Rendel, who noted that the county board in the past has had to spend its money for a number of things that are mandated by the state.

But in a written explanation of the proposal, he added, "We realize that snowfall has no definite boundaries and snow removal should not be charged against townships."

In response to other questions, Paul Kaiser, Road Commission engineer-manager, denied that any order had ever been given to curtail all maintenance operations in townships which had not paid their share of the requested $141,100. He said there was an order, however, to do only emergency work because of the shortage of funds.

While Kaiser blamed last winter for much of the current financial problems, county Commissioner Wesley Wickert contended that the Road Commission debts have risen in nine of the last 10 years. This was in spite of the fact, Wickert said, that Road Commission revenues have jumped from $954,000 in 1967 to $1.8 million in 1976.

Kaiser responded that the revenues had not kept pace with increases in such areas as insurance, labor, and equipment. He did acknowledge, however, that part of the trouble stemmed from making too many deferred payments for road work.

The Road Commission's debt at present is roughly $845,000, Kaiser said after the meeting.

The figure includes some $340,000 in deferred payments for road work primarily done in 1975; $280,000 in current debts; and $225,000 in long-term notes.

The latter figure includes $200,000 for work on CR-581 payable by 1981, and $25,000 for work on a gravel pit due by 1979, he said.

He likened the long-term debt as not being much different than owing on a home mortgage. Money has been budgeted to pay it off, Kaiser said.

He predicted most of the current debts and deferred payments would be paid off by the end of this year.

Terlisner Guilty In Slaying Case

By DENNIS COGSWELL
Paw Paw Bureau

PAW PAW — A Van Buren Circuit Court jury Thursday night convicted Len Terlisner of a charge of first degree murder in the 1971 robbery-slaying of Covert Township businesswoman Joseph Swetay.

Terlisner, 30, Columbia, now facing a mandatory term life prison term without the chance of parole.

Sentencing is scheduled for Nov. 14. Terlisner was charged with murder in the perpetration of a felony, robbery. The charge is included under the state's first degree murder statute and carries the same penalty, according to Wad S. Hamlin Jr., the county prosecutor who presented the case to the jury.

The body of the 64-year-old Swetay was found in the living quarters of his grocery store-warehouse on May 2, 1971, a Sunday morning, by an employee. He had been stabbed several times.

About $800 in daily receipts was taken but Swetay's assailants were unable to force him to open a safe containing an estimated $20,000.

In a tape recorded statement admitted as evidence, Terlisner told Berrien Sheriff's Detective Fred Reeves that he (Terlisner) had driven James Wayne Wilson and another man who has been identified only as "Nunmy" or "Nuttie" to the home, and remained outside the dwelling, acting as a lookout.

At the time he made the taped statement, Terlisner was being held in Berrien County Jail on an unrelated burglary charge.

On the stand, he disavowed the statement, claiming he made it to get "police off his back."

Wilson, 31, also of Columbia, is scheduled to go to trial on the murder charge sometime next year. The man known as "Nunmy" has never been more completely identified or found.

The case was heard by Circuit Court Judge Meyer Warschowsky.

Terlisner's defense attorney was James Ford of Benton Harbor.

NEWS OF MARKETS

Market Opens Mixed

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was mixed today in an atmosphere of uneasiness over the interest rate outlook.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials fell 2.60 to 812.60 in the first half hour, wiping out the gain it recorded on Thursday.

Gainers and losers ran about even in the broad tally of New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

New York's Citibank raised its prime lending rate this morning from 7 1/2 to 7 3/4 percent, for the sixth increase this year in the basic charge on blue chip loans.

Late Thursday the White House issued a statement implicitly criticizing the Federal Reserve for recent credit-tightening actions that have exerted upward pressure on interest rates.

McDonald's, the early volume leader among NYSE issues, was unchanged at 46.

On Thursday the Dow Jones industrial average rose 2.60 to 814.80 after hitting a new two-year low in the previous session.

But declines edged out advances by a slight margin in the over-all tally on the NYSE.

Big Board volume came to 17.34 million shares against 22.63 million on Wednesday.

The NYSE's composite common-stock index rose .13 to 30.78.

At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index added .18 to 113.82.

$175,000 Lumber Center To Be Located In Niles

By JOHN DYE
South Berrien Bureau

NILES — Another industry announced plans this morning to locate an operation here.

In a press conference at the Four Flags Area (Niles) Chamber of Commerce, Tolleson Lumber Co., Inc., Perry, Ga., said it would locate a lumber distribution center on leased land at the southwest corner of 13th and Lake streets here. The center would cost an estimated $175,000, according to the firm.

The wholesale operation will be a distribution center for the Georgia firm's "volcanized," or pressure-treated lumber, as well as southern yellow pine lumber.

William Clinger, executive vice president of the chamber, said the firm's plans call for about 100 railroad cars of lumber to be shipped into Niles each year, and then be trucked to Tolleson's customers in Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and other midwestern states yearly. Initially, the firm would employ five workers, Clinger said.

The announcement comes on the heels of plans announced by Sheller-Globe Corp. and Printon in locate operations in Niles and Niles township.

On hand for the announcement were officials from the chamber, the city of Niles and Niles township. Tolleson officials were unable to attend.

In a release distributed by the chamber, Tolleson officials said the Niles venture would be their first outside the state of Georgia and their first distribution center. The firm operates from three Georgia locations, with headquarters and a central lumber treatment and cutting plant in Perry, Ga.

In the release, J.M. Tolleson Jr., president of the firm, said the Niles site was selected over eight other Midwest locations. Reasons for the selection included Niles' closeness to the Chicago market; Michigan laws on truck weight limits; railroad freight rates in and out of Niles and the state's single business tax.

Clinger said temporary offices would soon be located at the site, land owned by Simplicity Pattern Co.

Ted Halbritter III, president of the Chamber, said plans call for the firm to eventually purchase its own land in the Niles area.

Halbritter said, "We are happy to say that for the third time in the last nine months, the Chamber has been instrumental in locating a major industry in the Four Flags area."

Investment Seminar Scheduled

A free investment seminar will be held Oct. 27 in St. Joseph by the securities of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith.

The seminar, open to the public, will be held at the St. Joseph Holiday Inn, starting at 7 p.m., according to account executive Dan Byrne, who will conduct the program.

Entitled "How to Manage Your Money in Today's Changing Economy," the program will be based on findings of Merrill Lynch analysts, including trends, future projections and discussion of individual industries and stocks. Time will be allowed for a question-and-answer session.

Although the forum is open to the public at no charge, reservations are requested. To reserve a seat call (616) 385-2550.

Store Seeks License For Take-Out Only

BERRIEN CENTER — It was incorrectly reported by this newspaper Wednesday that a liquor license sought by the Rangeline Grocery, 1027 Niles Ave., was to sell beer and wine for consumption at the grocery.

The SDM permit would be for beer and wine take-out sales only.

The information regarding the license was in a story about the proceedings of the Berrien Township Board which met Tuesday night. The board voted to ask the Michigan Liquor Control Commission to deny the request.

South Haven Firefighters Get Contract

By TOM RENNER
South Haven Correspondent

SOUTH HAVEN — A tentative labor agreement between the city of South Haven and its eight full-time firemen has been reached, according to City Manager Paul Sharon.

The firemen have been negotiating independently since breaking away from the Independent Municipal Employees Union of South Haven last month. That union, which includes city street, public works and clerical workers, will vote later this month on joining the Teamsters union.

Details of the new three-year pact will not be released until it receives formal City Council approval, Sharon said.

State Water Panel Hears Only One Speaker In SJ

By MIKE WYNGARDEN
Staff Writer

No. Southwestern Michigan residents spoke yesterday at the public appearance section of the two-day Michigan Water Resources Commission monthly meeting being held in St. Joseph.

The Water Resources Commission, a branch of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources which regulates the use of waterways, is holding its monthly meeting in St. Joseph as part of a program to hold several meetings a year outside Lansing.

The public appearance section is set aside by the commission to give individuals and organizations an opportunity to address the body. Today, the Water Resources Commission is scheduled to review reports by the commission's staff.

The only person addressing the commission yesterday during the public appearance section was Jack Shoenberger, waste control coordinator for Dow Corning Corp. in Midland.

Shoenberger protested the addition of an extra form in the commission's annual wastewater discharge report, a series of forms any industry or institution that makes discharges into public waterways must file with the commission detailing the type and concentration of chemicals discharged.

Shoenberger said the new form, requiring an account of industrial wastes that are not deposited into waterways but into landfills, was unnecessary, and a duplication of paperwork required by a number of other state and federal agencies.

Judge Refuses To Halt Dam At Paw Paw Lake

By SCOTT WILLIAMSON
Staff Writer

Berrien Circuit Judge Julian E. Hughes yesterday denied motions from two attorneys dealing with the level of Paw Paw Lake and a dam which will maintain a minimum level.

One motion, by St. Joseph attorney Vance A. Fisher, sought a court order to halt construction of a dam which will be built on the west side of the M-140 bridge in Watervliet Township. Fisher's clients, Richard and Patricia Kwiatkowski, owners of the nearby Pilgrim Drive-In, claimed construction of the dam at that site would affect their land.

Another motion, from Berrien Springs attorney Lee Boothby, representing a number of property owners on Paw Paw Lake, asked for a court order that the minimum level be maintained. Hughes held that the court did not have that authority because maintaining the level is the responsibility of the Berrien Board of Commissioners, although the level has been ordered by the court.

Both motions were denied without prejudice, meaning the motions could be re-filed at a later date.

The county board last month approved changing the location for the dam from a site where Watervliet Road crosses a channel between the lake and Paw Paw River to the M-140 bridge site.

The issue about the location of the lake control device began when Hughes established a minimum level for the lake, and ordered that the level of 621.8 feet above mean sea level be maintained annually from May 15 to Oct. 15.

The judge set the lake level after the county board received

Girl Hurt When Car Hits Pole

A Benton Township girl was treated for a cut on her forehead and released from Mercy Hospital after a car driven by her mother struck a utility pole on a private road at Ravines Mobile Home Park, 2088 E. Empire Ave., Thursday morning.

Benton Township police said Lori Rutherford, 4, a passenger in a car driven by Marsha B. Rutherford, 26, was injured at 6:30 a.m.

The accident occurred on a trailer park entrance road near Empire Avenue, according to Patrolman Tom Street. Street said no ticket was issued.

The Rutherford family live in the mobile home park.

BH Fire Damage Is Minor

Benton Harbor firefighters reported this morning the iron lex of a bed apparently were through an extension cord it was resting on resulting in a minor fire at a Pipestone street residence.

Firemen said a dust cover on a bed at the Haught Easley residence, 575 Pipestone, caught fire shortly before 7 a.m. but the fire was extinguished by occupants of the house with a pan of water before firemen arrived. Damage was estimated at $10 by Easley, who is both the owner and occupant of the house, according to firefighters.

Official Can Account For Missing Million, He Says

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The head of a northern Minnesota economic development program under investigation by the FBI says he can account for $1 million the U.S. Commerce Department says is missing.

Those records are now in the hands of an accounting firm which is copying them all and certifying their existence," said Donald C. Boyd in an interview from his home in Brimmon.

Meanwhile, the federal government has started a civil process to try to recover the $1 million for which Commerce Department auditors could not find receipts or vouchers.

William Bechtel, co-chairman of the Upper Great Lakes Commission, said Thursday that his office has begun drawing up documents for civil proceedings "to recover whatever money is left."

The FBI stepped into the case Wednesday in a "preliminary investigation to verify the allegations" of fraud, said John Otto, agent in charge of the Minneapolis FBI office.

Two Duluth-based agencies headed by Boyd received $1,065,000 in federal funds from the Upper Great Lakes Commission in the last six years. The commission, established in the 1960s, distributes money to 119 distressed counties in northern Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan.

The agencies in question are the Northern Minnesota Regional Economic Development Center and the Duluth Area Economic Development Office. Bechtel described them as "really one project" with little or no distinction between them.

Boyd said all projects, "probably better than 100 over the years, were supervised and approved directly by the governor's office." The supervision came from Michael Pintar, until recently the head of the Minnesota office of the Great Lakes commission in Duluth.

Boyd said Pintar was his direct supervisor and "I saw him almost daily."

A number of grant applications for the two projects specified that the personnel paid by the grants would be "directly responsible" to Pintar, who was appointed to the job in 1971 by former Gov. Wendell Anderson.

Pintar declined to comment on the probe.

The investigation was instigated by Bechtel, appointed by President Carter in July to co-chair the commission. He represented Wisconsin on the commission in 1975.

"There was an audit in 1975 of the $475,000 already awarded Boyd's projects," Bechtel said. "The auditors disallowed every cent. I never heard of the audit and the staff (in Washington) never heard of it and the Michigan governor's office never heard of it."

"I can only conclude that something happened to conceal that vital information from the governors."

RADIOS DONATED: Members of Southwestern Michigan Emergency Service, a CB radio club, have donated five CB radios to state police at Paw Paw post and five radios and base station to Van Buren Sheriff's Department. Police will now be able to talk to CB'ers during emergency situations and in tracking down criminals. Radios were purchased from proceeds of club's CB jamboree held in July, and cost estimated $1,200. On hand for
